U.K. ASKS CONSULTATION ON TRIESTE PLEBISCITE

ROME (AP) — Britain called today for consultations with the United States and France on Italy's new plea for a plebiscite on explosive Trieste which Yugoslavia's President Tito already has rejected.

A British Foreign Office spokesman in London told a press conference the three western powers will have to consider Pella's proposal for a conference on the subject.

As Pella was making his proposal for a plebiscite, Tito declared in the Adriatic port city of Split:

"We are against a plebiscite now because of the policy of denationalization by Mussolini. First the injustices should be repaired."

The Yugoslavs are well aware that Italy would have the advantage in such a vote, since about 70 per cent of the territory's 380,000 people are Italian. The Yugoslavs long have charged that Mussolini shoved out more than 100,000 Slovenes and replaced them with Italians in a program of "denationalization."

CCF Leader Blames B.C. Government For Douk Uprising

Webster Criticizes Lack of Action on Part Of Authorities; Sons Stage Nude Parade

(From BUP and CP Dispatches)

VANCOUVER — Provincial CCF leader Arnold Webster claimed the government lacked the courage and was procrastinating today in dealing with the Doukhobor situation.

Webster told a pre-session gathering of CCF legislature members and provincial MPs that the blame for the present Sons of Freedom problem should be placed squarely on the shoulders of the government. He said the government promised to do something during the summer and "now we're well into fall and they've done nothing."

The CCF leader said his party would challenge the government when the legislature opens Tuesday to work out an immediate program for protection and prevention.

Meanwhile, a letter from the spiritual leader of the Sons of Freedom, Stefan Sorokin, was read to a gathering of some 300 Doukhobors at Krestova Sunday.

The letter promised Sorokin would put an end to the Doukhobor problems when he returned, but he did not say when. John Perepepkin, Sorokin's chief lieutenant in the Kootenay

Valley, said he did not know where Sorokin was now, and that the group does not know its way without Sorokin.

Early Sunday a home was put to the torch at nearby Glade. Saturday four were burned at this headquarters of Freedomite activity. Later Sunday some 50 men and women staged a parade in the nude, starting and ending at a crude meeting hall, a converted barn where they had held a meeting to consider the arrests of their companions.

There was considerable commotion during the parade. Afterwards, the Freedomites returned to their homes. They were accompanied during the demonstration by a handful of orthodox Doukhobors, who number in all about 8,000.

The orthodox groups seldom mix publicly with the radical Freedomites. Their action Sunday gave rise to speculation that the Sons have received recruits from the orthodox Doukhobors since the mass arrests.

Petes Confident Of Boxla Win

Experience Figured to Carry Trailermen To Victory Over Rocks; Referees Named

By BILL WALKER, Times Sports Editor

Victoria Shamrocks and Peterborough Trailermen are in complete agreement over rules for the Mann Cup lacrosse series opening at Memorial Arena tonight.

Rules as in effect in the west this year will be used, team manager and coaches have decided. This decision was announced at a meeting of the Canadian Lacrosse Association this morning.

Main points are that the six-man game will be played; the 10-second rule behind the goal crease will be in effect; the delayed penalty rule will be enforced and the goalkeeper may at any time be replaced by an attacking player.

The 10-second rule provides that no attacking player in possession of the ball can remain behind the goal for more than 10 seconds. Penalty is a face-off.

Officials for the opening series game will be Bill Dickinson and Bill Wilkes of Vancouver. Referees will be appointed on a game-to-game basis.

Meanwhile, the Peterborough Trailermen appear confident they can take the Shamrocks into camp.

"Our team is 25 per cent stronger than the one that beat Vancouver Combines in Vancouver two years ago," said playing coach Bobby Thorpe.

However, neither Thorpe nor Shamrocks' coach Red McMillan would go out on a limb regarding the series.

General opinion is that the Shamrocks will be cast in the role of underdogs because of the great record of the Trailermen and the fact that the eastern champs have held the Mann Cup for the last two years.

The Trailermen who arrived Sunday held a shake-down workout at the Arena this morning and, to say the least, were impressive.

Nature of the workout can be judged by the fact that Dootch Vitarelli of the Trailermen suffered a four-stitch gash on his head during the drill.

Trailermen appear to rely on a short-passing deliberate style of attack and seem to be at the peak of condition.

Four Killed In Ladysmith Highway Crash

Two Badly Injured As Car Hits Bridge

(Special to the Times)

LADYSMITH — One of the worst highway accidents in recent years claimed the lives of four people Saturday evening, and seriously injured two others, when their car struck an abutment of the Diamond Bridge two miles north of here.

Those killed were: Hugh A. Green, about 50, of Port Alberni, owner of the car and believed to have been the driver;

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rayner, both about 34, of Port Alberni; Mrs. Peggy Cappello, about 20, of Port Alberni.

Injured in the crash and taken to Ladysmith General Hospital were Louis Cappello, husband of the deceased woman, and Lyall Parke, seaman from HMCS Ontario. Parke has since been moved to HMCS Naden hospital in Victoria.

Mr. Cappello's condition was described today as "fair, and slightly improved."

According to RCMP reports the car was traveling south at the time.

As it proceeded up-grade to the bridge approach it apparently went out of control, veered into gravel on the left shoulder of the road, and crashed into the concrete abutment at the north end of the bridge.

It plunged onward down the bank past the bridge end, and came to a stop in soft soil of the fill leading to the bridge before reaching the bottom.

An inquest will be held at 8 p.m. today, but will adjourn until witnesses are able to testify.

ONE WITNESS

To date the RCMP have only one witness, who saw the ill-fated car pass on its way south. There is no indication of the speed the late-model sedan was traveling when it hit the abutment, nor have police witnesses of the actual crash.

The car is a total loss. The engine was pushed back from its mountings, and it was reported one of the persons killed was thrown through the windshield. The others were crushed in the rear of the car.

Two of the four were killed outright, and the others died minutes after arrival at hospital.

Port Alberni, home of all the deceased, was shocked today at word of the tragedy. According to reports from the west coast city, the party was on its way to auto races at Shearing Speedway, Cobble Hill.

PILL BLAMED FOR DEATH OF LADYSMITH TOT

LADYSMITH—A headache tablet that lodged in her throat is believed to blame for the death shortly after midnight on Saturday of five-year-old Sheila Hartley.

It was understood today that the child had been suffering a slight illness at the time.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hartley, she was reported to have had trouble breathing following the administering of the tablet. She died before a doctor could attend.

RCMP said today an inquiry will be held, but no date has been set.

Reds' Demands May Upset Korea Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

(AP)—Tension built up again in the United Nations today as explosive new debate became a certainty in the wake of Communist China's demands for a "round-table" Korean peace conference.

The United States at once emphatically rejected the Peiping proposals, made in a long telegram Sunday from the Chinese premier-foreign minister, Chou Enlai, to UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld.

With the opening Tuesday, delegates prepared for another oratorical battle over Chou's demands that Russia, India, Burma, Pakistan and Indonesia be invited to the peace conference as "neutrals."

Only Producer Price To Be Fixed by Board

The provincial government today ordered decontrol of the milk industry above the producer level, effective Oct. 1.

Agriculture Minister Kenneth Kiernan made the announcement after a special cabinet meeting.

The order means milk producers (farmers) still will be paid the fixed price for their milk, but the milk distributors will be open to free competition on price, quality, and packaging.

In other words, there will be a return to a competitive market for distributors.

It means stores can institute "differentials" for over-the-counter milk sales, and distributors will be permitted to offer cheaper prices to consumers who buy in quantity.

Industry Opposes Move

Previously, none of these things was allowed without permission of the B.C. Milk Board.

Cost of a quart of standard milk in Victoria now is 24 cents. Special milk is 26 cents.

The fixed price to lower Vancouver Island producers will be $5.90 per 100 pounds of 3.5 per cent butter fat content milk delivered to the distributor. In Vancouver, the price will be $5.03. These prices are the same as before.

The order is in line with the Social Credit government's promise at the spring session of the legislature.

It is made in the face of strenuous objections from the trade—producers and distributors who opposed decontrol at recent public hearings.

In explaining the order, Mr. Kiernan said: "From the standpoint of public health and a standpoint of net returns to producer, this was definitely not a satisfactory situation. With the elimination of all controls above the producer level, it is felt that open competition will not only improve the quality of the milk offered, but will contribute to more economical distribution."

Effect of the decontrol here is not definite.

WRIGHT LEAVE STILL UNSETTLED

Opening Session of 24th Legislature Starts Tomorrow

Percy Wright, Victoria MLA, got a seven-hour holiday leave from his job as assistant city clerk today to attend a Social Credit caucus meeting at the Legislative Buildings.

It is expected he will walk off his job Tuesday afternoon to attend the opening session of the legislature putting City Council on its hottest spot in years.

A civic employee for 22½ years, Mr. Wright applied for a 30-day leave-of-absence to attend the session and was refused by City Manager Cecil Wyatt on grounds the city has no legal authority to grant the leave.

Mr. Wright has not resigned his position and shows no inclination to do so, although he has stated definitely he will move the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne on Wednesday.

If he walks out, his absence will be reported to Mayor Claude Harrison, who could suspend him under the Municipal Act.

Asked if he would take such action the mayor replied: "It is entirely up to the manager. Council left it in his hands. I won't interfere unless asked to by the council or the manager."

Opening of the new Legislature, chosen after British Columbia's greatest political turmoil in years, is timed for 3 p.m. Tuesday, with the customary ceremonies and Lieutenant-Governor Clarence Wallace reading the Throne speech.

Party standings in the new house are: Social Credit, 28; CCF, 14; Liberal, 4; Progressive-Conservative, 1; and Labor, 1.

The House is to deal with the business that was left unfinished when the spring session of the 23rd legislature blew up in defeat of the government, forcing an election.

Because it has been termed a regular, rather than a special, session it will cost B.C. taxpayers an extra $100,000 or more.

For regular sessions MLAs are paid their full $3,000 indemnity, but for special sessions only a daily allowance.

Other salaries include a $2,000 statutory allowance to the leader of the opposition, an $1,500 sessional allowance to the Speaker, and $500 to the deputy clerk of the House $1,700, law

Percy Made It Today

By using up seven hours of holiday time he had coming, Victoria's new MLA Percy Wright, assistant city clerk, managed to escape his City Hall duties today to attend the first Social Credit Party caucus at the Legislative Buildings. Still unsettled is whether he gets fired by the city when he attends the official opening of the Legislature Tuesday. Here he shakes hands with Attorney-General Robert Bonner and seems unworried about the storm he has caused.

The remainder of the cost is taken up by office expenses, printing and publication and dining room costs. (See Page 13 for further news on House opening.)

$150,000 Voted To Meet Expenses Of Douk Crisis

The provincial government today authorized $150,000, by special warrant, to meet the emergency created by B.C.'s current Doukhobor troubles.

There is no special announcement as to how the money will be spent. Details are left to the discretion of Attorney-General Robert Bonner.

The Doukhobor situation is expected to result in renewed B.C. demands for financial aid from Ottawa.

Earlier in the year Mr. Bonner said Ottawa should pay at least half of costs required to deal with the troublesome sect.

Foreign Correspondent Relates Events Leading Up to Arrest

Editor's Note: Associated Press Correspondent William N. Oatis, released and restored to health after two years in a Communist prison in Czechoslovakia, has written the story of his ordeal, as promised when he returned to the United States last May. Here is one of a series of articles in which Oatis relates his experiences.

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

(Copyright 1953 by The Associated Press)

The first sign that I was in trouble came in August of 1950, two months after I went to Prague, Czechoslovakia, as a foreign correspondent.

It happened at the world congress of the International Union of Students, held in a big trade exposition hall on the outskirts of Prague.

The IUS had its secretariat in Prague and included member organizations of college students in 68 countries. The secretariat and most of the member organizations were Communist dominated, but some of the latter, notably in England, Scotland and Denmark, were not.

My news-gathering routine consisted mostly of sitting in the office and writing stories I selected from the official Czechoslovak News Agency and local newspapers and radio, and occasionally going out and getting what I thought of as "dips." The student congress gave me a chance to get something first-hand to cover a story with my own eyes and ears.

The convention produced no word-shaking news. But I reported how delegates demonstrated for Soviet Prime Minister Stalin, while some Western delegations sat silent, and how an American speaker proclaimed, "In America, we will shout, 'Hands off Korea!'"

ENTER JAN

I later went down on the convention floor, to talk to that speaker and some other delegates seated there. The hall was well staffed with ushers, but none stopped me.

I was in my office the next morning when a man telephoned asking if I knew where he could find Russell Jones, the United Press chief in Prague. I said I could not, and inquired who was calling. The man said, "This is Jan."

I had heard about him. Jan Stransky had worked for the UP until shortly before I arrived in Prague. Then he had been picked up and sent to a labor camp on the grounds he had planned to leave the country illegally.

Soviet Soldiers Join in Campaign To Halt Food Flow

BERLIN (UP)—Soviet soldiers today were reported for the first time to have joined in the Communist campaign to block distribution of "Eisenhower food parcels" to hungry East Germans.

A West Berlin newspaper reported that Soviet soldiers fired a warning volley over the heads of angry Germans who demonstrated in protest of the confiscation of their prized food parcels by Red police during the week end.

U.S. authorities in West Berlin said 4,000,000 of the packages of free American food now have been distributed to East Germans in spite of tight Communist controls, threats and intimidation.

SASK. LABOR HEAD

SASKATOON (CP)—A. Tait of Moose Jaw Saturday was elected president of the Saskatchewan Federation of Labor, AFL-TLC, at the final session of the federation's first annual convention.

Don Arnolds of Saskatoon was elected first vice-president. Delegates endorsed the formation of the new provincial body. Twenty provincial unions, with membership of 7,000 voted unanimously for the endorsement.

WILLIAM OATIS

else. And the people who told me about that were the secret police.

I thought at once of how I had gone onto the convention floor and questioned the American that had talked about Korea, and of how unhappy he had seemed to see me.

His speech, reported by the official Czechoslovak News Agency and by at least two American agencies, had caused him some trouble back home. And now, I supposed, the young Communists running the congress were punishing me for sending the story.

The congress ended and I turned to other things. In September, Bedrich Runge, a press officer, called me to the ministry of foreign affairs.

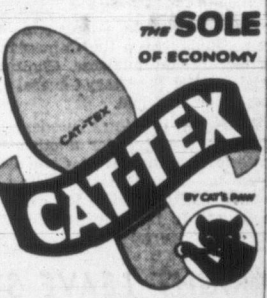

Runge was a tall, grey-haired man with vague blue eyes in a beefy face. On my previous visits, he had received me cordially. This time his manner was stiff and cold. And he was not alone. There was a third party on hand—a mousy little moustached man.

INVITED TO LEAVE

Runge failed to offer the usual handshake. Instead, he waved me to a little table. He told me I would not be reaccepted when my permission to work as a correspondent expired Sept. 30.

"This is not a measure directed against the Associated Press," he said. "It is a measure directed against you personally."

CATHOLICS FACE TRIAL IN POLAND

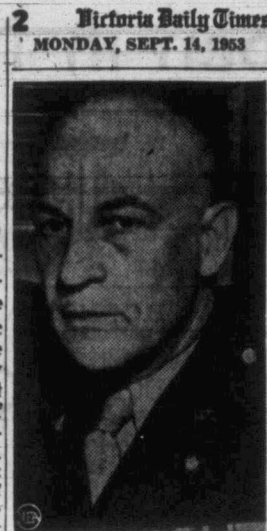

WARSAW, Poland (AP)

—The former Roman Catholic Bishop of Kielce, Czeslaw Kaczmarek, three other Roman Catholic churchmen and a nun were scheduled to be tried today by the Warsaw regional military court on charges of spying for "American imperialists" and the Vatican. An official announcement said the bishop was accused of organizing an espionage and diversionist centre in Kielce province, central Poland, of directing anti-state activities, of sabotaging economic plans of the Communist government, conspiring to bring capitalism back to Poland and carrying on black market activities.

He also was accused of co-operating with the German occupation forces during the Second World War.

Standing trial with him were Rev. Jan Danilewicz, former treasurer of the Kielce curia; Rev. Jozef Dabrowski, the bishop's former chaplain; Rev. Kwladyslaw Widlak, a former official of the Kielce seminary, and Sister Waleria Niklewska.

The bishop was reported in trouble with the Polish government as early as January, 1951, when it was announced that the Kielce district attorney had ordered essential security measures against him.

Maritimes' Leaders Gather To Discuss Mutual Problems

MONCTON, N.B. (CP)

Premiers of the three Maritime provinces and a cabinet minister from Newfoundland meet here today to discuss mutual problems and possible solutions.

If things work out the way some hope, the meeting may lead to a new era of co-operation in the eastern provinces, known usually for their regional jealousies.

P. Lewis, minister without portfolio, is representing Newfoundland's Premier Smallwood, who couldn't attend. Premiers MacDonald of Nova Scotia, Flemming of New Brunswick and Matheson of Prince Edward Island are attending with some of their advisers.

The meeting, first of its kind in history, was arranged by the Maritime Provinces Board of Trade which invited the premiers to talk over mutual problems. All quickly agreed and the idea also found favor among business and political leaders. About 50 said they would attend today's sessions as observers.

High on the agenda was a study of the economic position of the provinces. All have something in common on this subject and Maritimers are well known for their argument that they were bilked when they joined Confederation.

Establishment of a joint tourist promotion scheme, a uniform highway code, standardized education regulations and development of industry and natural resources were also on the agenda.

Moderator Calls Christians to Closer Union

United Front Would Bring Impact For Good to World, Says Churchman

Christians must present to the world a united front to achieve the greatest impact for good, Rt. Rev. A. A. Scott, Moderator of the United Church of Canada, told a rally of 6,000 in Memorial Arena Sunday evening.

The rally, a highlight of the United Church exposition traveling across Canada, was designed to stress the theme of service through the church to all mankind.

Christ is the head of the church, said the moderator, and He deserved the loyal service of church members.

The church must have breadth of outlook, he said, and a vision "of one world." Otherwise, he said, its members failed as Christians.

There must be full amity between churches and their adher-ents, said the minister. He was not calling for a union of church groups, but rather a closer co-operation, a united front for Christianity's sake, he said. Above all, he contended, the churches owed each other good will.

Everyone must work, he warned. Too many men take religion in the names of their wives, was the fashion of his phrasing.

"There can be no such thing as a nominal Christian," he challenged.

Both Missionaries in India

The Moderator was introduced to the congregation by Rev. Moir A. J. Waters, minister of First United Church, who knew him when the two were missionaries in India.

The Moderator spoke from a platform on the main floor at the north end of the building. The front of the stage was banked with flowers. In the seats immediately behind the stage, a massed choir of 300, made up of singers from all United Churches in the Greater Victoria, was arranged.

The choir and ministers taking part in the ceremony entered the arena in procession as the choir sang "The Church's One Foundation."

Miss Irene Byatt, contralto, sang "Oh, Rest in the Lord." The choir sang "God So Loved the World," and "Hallelujah Chorus." Mr. and Mrs. Roberto Wood, of First United Church, directed the choir, and Charles Palmer, of Metropolitan United, was the organist.

Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Clarence Wallace attended. Premier W. A. C. Bennett read the lesson. Mrs. Bennett and Education Minister Tilly Rolston sat together in the congregation.

Mexico Takes Tuna Title on 723-Pounder

WEDGEPORT, N.S. (CP) — Dr. Rofolfo Araujo's 723-pound catch won Mexico its first championship of the international tuna tournament Saturday.

In one of the most thrilling climaxes of the tournament's 16-year history, the tiny Mexico City obstetrician, who had never caught a tuna in his life, hooked the whopper as the fog lifted on nearby Lobster bay. He landed it in an hour and 45 minutes.

It was the biggest of the four fish caught during the three-day tournament that was spoiled when a hurricane last Monday scattered tuna seaward. Four was the smallest number ever caught in the matches.

Three tuna were caught Saturday. Argentina had held the lead since Thursday on the strength of a 158-pounder landed by Pablo Bardins.

Argentina, Cuba and The Netherlands placed after Mexico in that order and none of the other six teams landed a fish.

HEARING-AID OF THE WEEK

By R. S. H. TYE

NOT VERY BAD

"My hearing is not very bad. I can hear quite well if only one person is speaking to me, but when there are several people in the room and a general conversation is going on, I do not know half of what is said."

How many hundreds of times we have heard the above during the 15 years that we have been fitting hearing-aids?

At one time it was seldom possible to fit a case with a hearing-loss as mild as this, but it is a different story today. With the latest Paravox hearing-aids we can fit even the mildest cases with Transistor models "TRANSONIC" or "TRANSVAC." No matter what degree of deafness you have, provided you still have some residual hearing, we can help you hear again.

You are welcome to test these hearing-aids without obligation and arrange for a few days home trial before purchase at the Victoria Hearing-Aid Co., 326 Yarrow Bldg., 625 Fort St. If you are not able to call at the office Mr. Tye will be pleased to call on you by appointment.

Police Believe Hospital Escapee Still Hiding in Saanich Bushland

A report to Saanich police Sunday indicated an escapee from Wilkinson Road mental hospital Friday night is still hiding out in bush country of that area.

A citizen reported to Saanich police Sunday afternoon that he had seen a man who fitted the description of two-time escapee James Carol Hall, 30, of Vancouver, off Interurban Road north of Wilkinson.

R.C.M.P. man-hunting dog "Rip," handled by Constable Ian Hall, Parksville, Friday night followed the trail of Hall from the rear of the mental home, along Conway and north on Interurban before the track faded out.

Police believe the escapee hitched a ride.

The new tip indicated the same man had been seen about a mile farther north on Interurban. Const. Hall, who had returned to Parksville with his dog, was recalled.

A new search was conducted in the area where the man had been reported.

"Rip" picked up a trail. We continued the search until 3 a.m. today and were out again at 5 to try and make further progress on the new trail," Const. Robin Stewart said. Belief in this was where Hall got out of a car.

Hall received a 14-year prison sentence last year for numerous burglaries. He was committed to the mental hospital after slashing his wrists in the penitentiary.

Good Deeds you may have done unknowingly

1. Here's a new home you may have helped provide for one of your neighbours — if you are a life insurance policyholder. For part of your premium money is invested by your life insurance company in ways that provide funds for building not only houses, but schools, roads, power plants, other developments.

2. Perhaps, too, you can take a small part of the credit for Tommy's recovery from a serious illness. Medical science is always learning more, through research, about how to combat disease. And you may be providing some of the funds that life insurance companies contribute to such vital research projects.

3. Ever help a man get a job? You may have — unknowingly. For life insurance money, invested in ways that enable an industry to expand, has played an important part in providing new jobs for many workers — including, perhaps yourself.

4. As a life insurance policyholder, you do all your fellow-citizens a service. For the financial security you've provided for your family reduces the chance of their ever becoming a burden to others. The more protection you own, the more that chance is reduced.

In all these ways, millions of life insurance policyholders are building security for their future — and helping make Canada a better land to live in!

Attack on Geneva

THE ATTACK ON THE GENERAL Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, and hence on the present trading system of Canada, is now coming out into the open. Apparently it will reveal itself fully when the signatories of these agreements meet in Geneva on September 17. At the end of this year any signatory can withdraw and raise its tariffs, thus starting a new struggle of trade restriction. At Geneva this month that threat apparently will be made by some countries, and can be carried out, with grave consequences, early in 1954.

The first clear intimation that GATT faces a new crisis comes from Mr. Menzies, prime minister of Australia, a highly protectionist country. Mr. Menzies demands a "comprehensive review" of the whole Geneva system. He complains that trading conditions have changed throughout the world since the system was established in 1948, that markets are becoming more competitive and that Australia and other countries are too restricted by the existing agreements in the protection of their own industries. He therefore wants more "flexibility" which, in plain English, means more freedom to raise tariffs and increase the inflexibility of the world market.

It is evident from the British press that Mr. Menzies has strong support for these views in Britain, where the Conservative party contains a hard core of protectionists (though Sir Winston Churchill is a lifelong free trader) and the Labor party has reverted, quite logically as a socialist party, to outright protectionism. In Canada also the protectionists are becoming vocal, even though Mr. Drew's thinly disguised protectionist policy was repudiated by the electors on August 10.

Highly significant is the sudden change in the editorial policy of the Financial Post, which complains that the Canadian tariff is "archaically low" and that investment is pouring into American rather than Canadian industries—this though the rate of industrial investment in Canada in the last five years probably has been the highest in the world. All that the Post really means, of course, is that, by increasing our tariffs we should establish non-economic industries which cannot compete in the domestic or foreign market without being subsidized by the consumers through high, tariff-rigged prices.

The arguments for and against protection, repeated in every Canadian election since Confederation, ought to be well understood by this time. What is not well understood is that Canada's prosperity today rides very largely on the expanded markets opened by the Geneva agreements and that their collapse would be disastrous to our trade. We have a larger stake in the forthcoming Geneva conference than any other nation and our government wisely will resist every attempt to whittle down and ultimately destroy the world market.

Why All the Fog?

LIKE CAESAR'S WIFE, MEN IN public life should avoid even the appearance of evil. When charged with a violation of law or established custom, or of profiting from such, they should be jealous of their reputations to the point of making the true state of affairs perfectly clear to the public.

Some surprise has resulted, therefore, from the action of Premier Bennett and Health Minister Martin in airily dismissing allegations that a Social Credit agent had contravened the B.C. Elections Act in handling Mr. Martin's campaign funds during the last election. The public has been left in a quandary by their descriptions of the charges as "just a bubble" and "just a silly bit of business," while at the same time the president and executive of the Vancouver-Burrard Social Credit constituency have expelled from the association the man against whom the original charges were laid.

Mr. Martin's reaction to this move by officials of the party to which he belongs was merely to comment that "Wardrop (the president) has no authority to expel anybody."

A situation has arisen that should not be permitted to continue. The legality of an election campaign has been questioned, the agent involved has been expelled from his local party association, yet no court action has been called by either the head of the government or his minister, and the public has been left with some serious questions in mind.

One would think that Mr. Martin himself would wish to clarify his own position and that of the government he serves by demanding that the whole question be thoroughly aired and the public informed of the facts.

For Valor

NEWSPAPER READERS WILL have noted with satisfaction the recognition accorded 10 British Columbians by the Royal Humane Association for deeds of heroism during 1952.

They may have noted also, with some surprise, that the parchment awards for last year went entirely to residents of the mainland. This is unusual in so far as dramatic rescues on Vancouver Island are yearly occurrences which surely merit the attention of the Royal Humane Association.

That body cannot, however, concern itself with incidents of which it is not adequately informed. Presumably rescues on Vancouver Island have not been recognized because the required procedure to bring them to the association's attention has not been followed.

To become a candidate for the Royal Canadian Humane Association certificate, an individual involved in a deed of heroism must have his exploit reported, with authentic evidence, to the honorary secretary of the association, 202 Imperial Building, Hamilton, Ont. If such information is further supported by a recommendation from some local public body—a municipal council for instance—the application may carry more weight.

Probably the Island's most recent spectacular rescue was that performed by Lawrence Lansdowne, who, bare-handed, saved an Indian woman from an attacking cougar at Ingelwood. If appropriate recommendations have not been made already to the association covering that incident, no time should be lost in making them.

No Bliss in Ignorance

DISCUSSIONS WITH AN OFFICIAL of the department of transport have underscored the dangers to casual fishermen uninformed on tides around Vancouver Island.

The official in question states that no resort owner is required to instruct visitors in hazards on the water near his establishment. That is understandable, up to a point. Resort owners can scarcely be expected to frighten away potential guests by lugubrious warnings against tide and storm dangers.

At the same time, some cautioning should be given to inexperienced people who have no conception of the strength of tides and the speed with which storms can blow up on Vancouver Island salt water.

Conditions vary in different locations. The tide appears stronger, for instance, off Trial Island than it does in other parts of the Strait westward to Brodie Ledge and beyond.

Residents in any particular area are usually well informed on the peculiarities of the water in their own regions. Obviously the inexperienced person should make inquiries before he sets out in a boat. He ought to approach the question in the frame of mind that some stretches of water are worse than others, but that almost all can, under certain circumstances, be dangerous.

For All To Accept

AS IN PREVIOUS YEARS, THE courses now offered by the evening division of Victoria College comprise a varied and valuable opportunity for further adult education.

The lectures begin in the closing days of this month. Some of them lead to credit in regular university subjects; others are provided for the wealth of information they afford in topics of interest to the general public. Such are the courses in conversational French, in conservation of B.C.'s natural resources, in advertising fundamentals, in Shakespeare and his times, in personal finances, in musical recordings and other fields.

The program has been arranged with a view to meeting public needs. It is one which commends itself to all with a few spare evenings that can be put to profitable use.

The effort, of course, must be made by each individual. The great educational advances of our age can mean nothing unless they are interpreted in terms of personal participation. But the man or woman who makes learning a hobby has entered upon an adventure in living that will enrich life to the end.

Gain for the West

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

WELL, CHAPS, last time I was telling you about my famous travels in the State of Washington. I think when I left you we were on the subject of logging trucks. It struck me very forcibly that no truck bore the familiar motto "Keep Washington Green." Possibly an oversight. And now we come to that, no British Columbian logging truck bears any such motto either. Not one of them, that I ever noticed, has a huge banner flapping across its bows, in a way to blind the driver, saying "Spare That Tree!" Another oversight.

IT IS TRUE that in company reports you read all kinds of things (and when I say all kinds, I naturally imply conflicting ones) about the way the logging companies are making three or four trees grow where one grew before. On the other hand, you can also read in the company reports some very pathetic appeals to the various governments to remedy these horrible gashes on our hillsides (known as sidehills) caused by loggers. It is a long time since I studied plant pathology, but it sticks in my mind that this disease is caused by chopping down trees. Sawing trees down isn't any too good for them, either.

AND THESE gash-diseases put the state government or the provincial government in what was once called a pickle, meaning a predicament or a nasty little smart aleck of a juxtaposition. It is best to say that in the long run, or the run-off, the gap will be filled by maples, alder, devil's club, and highly profitable salmonberries. A point not lightly to be shirked. Blackberries, too, are favorable to many foresters. But it is even better to say that state or provincial revenue depends on logging off the hillsides as fast as possible, and if this process once paused for a moment, payrolls would suffer, and the funds for building roads into nowhere would suffer, and (heavens above!) so would the funds for repairing roads bust by logging trucks, just think of that. So skip it, you knackers. You are not very constructive. You're the kind of man a decent logger hates.

BUT I haven't told you about my trip. Gosh, I haven't even told you about the one commercial meal we ate in a restaurant. This restaurant was peculiar for two reasons. For one thing, its soup was a masterpiece, based on clams, celery and spuds, wisely seasoned. In most eateries the soup is a mockery. And for another thing, on the way to the Gents' you passed through the biggest poker game this side of the North Pole. The players were all tough pirates, each with a teacup full of rum at his elbow, and they very much resented my intrusion. Especially when I had a couple of male kids clinging to my hands in a horror only equalled by the horror of the poker players.

I told the players they should be more off the beaten track. But they paid no attention. A man had just opened up what was obviously a single pair, and they were out for blood, and trying to relax in the most uneasy way I ever saw. I wanted to get into that game myself.

NOR DID I tell you about the dog that was run over. He died horribly, as dogs do on highways, and a woman got out of the car and had hysterics. Had them right at me. She kept saying over and over "But I don't like killing dogs." Few people do, really, but she thought she was unique. And what else did I see? I saw "Tasty-Freeze Hot Dogs," when all of us prefer them slightly warmed. I saw a double-bitted axe in a public camp, that weapon more dangerous than any cocked rifle... if one kid fell on it, this family journal would have headlines enough for a week. I saw food priced (and taxed) high enough to destroy the appetite of a truck-driver, though better packaged and displayed (at a price) than we have it here. The bread, by the way, was even wetter than ours. The beer was weaker and more "chemical." Logically, everything is chemical, but you know well what I mean, and therefore "chemical" is a useful word. The milk tasted better, but maybe that is because I was thirsty.

I SAW a little girl with 61 skeeter bites. (She showed me the ones her decency would allow, which was considerable.) I saw men catching no fish, and the coho they didn't catch they called "silver." The spring they didn't catch they called "king" or "chinook." They called them "king" or "chinook" because they didn't catch them still called chum, as we do, though we sometimes call them king or dog salmon as well. And pinkies were pink, oddly enough.

I talked to seiners and gill-netters, and they told me sockeye are sockeye in Washington too, though on the Columbia River they are blueback, and in Alaska they are red. Blueback, as you perhaps know, means a young coho in B.C., just as humpback means a young pink and jack means a young spring. If there is any name for a young chum or keta or dog salmon, I don't know it, though it must exist. And who cares anyway?

PRIME MINISTER

Some time ago the question was raised in the press as to the propriety of the leader of the government of this province to use the title "Prime Minister" which it was understood was Mr. Bennett's choice in connection with his letterhead, etc.

The general custom in this province has been to use the title "Premier." Sir Richard McBride, W. J. Bowser, H. C. Brewster, John Oliver, Dr. McLean, Simon Tolmie, John Hart and Byron Johnson all used the title "Premier." According to my recollection the title "Prime Minister" was first used in this province by Mr. Pattullo and now it is understood by Mr. Bennett.

While it is quite true that under the Constitutional Act there is a reference to "the official occupying the position of premier," in England where there is no statutory definition the leader of the government has invariably been known as Prime Minister but according to Halsbury (Halsbury edition) Volume 6, para 804, the person accepting the Sovereign's commission to form a government and nominate a new ministry "becomes known as Prime Minister or Premier."

The Queen's first minister of the National Government has almost invariably been known as Prime Minister. There is, however, very high authority in support of the use of the title "Prime Minister" by provincial first ministers in that during the visit of Her Majesty the Queen to Canada, on each occasion when she received or referred to her first ministers in each of the provinces she addressed them as "Dear Prime Minister" and it is to be supposed that she was well briefed by the Prime Minister of Canada in doing so. Actually it would appear that the terms are interchangeable.

RECALLING THE FACTS

In 1950 ex-Alderman Diggon, chairman, Aldermen Scurrell and Pinfold, were appointed to consider the applications for the position of city manager which had been authorized by the voters. The screening was done by the firm of Kellogg & Stevenson, management engineers, who handled the British Columbia applicants; their agents did this duty for those applying from eastern Canada. A gentleman from the east was appointed at a salary of $12,000.00 per annum, this applicant later withdrew. The next selection of the screening firm was Mr. C. C. Wyatt by a big margin.

This gentleman was asked to come west for an interview with the council in committee of the whole and they were satisfied that he was the man who should be appointed for a three-year term with the understanding that after two years the position should be reviewed both in regard to work performed and the salary which, to start with, had been set at $10,000.00, and that if all parties were satisfied the salary should be $12,000.00 as originally set.

It is therefore clear that Mr. Wyatt's salary is in no way concerned or has any bearing whatsoever on wages paid the city staff.

It is well known to the council members that Mr. Wyatt has saved his salary many times over in his various re-organization and staff reduction plans.

WILL NOT, DOES NOT

The Victoria Times of September 1 carried a letter signed with the pseudonym "Subscriber" which states that the writer has no doubt that Canadian oil companies get together to discuss the price increases. It further states that all companies increase their price simultaneously.

This company will not, and does not discuss the establishment of prices with any other oil company. When we make product price changes there are only two notifications—one to our dealers and one in the form of a press release to radio and newspapers.

It may be of interest that this subject came up during a discussion in the House of Commons at Ottawa on March 6, 1951, and Hon. C. D. Howe is recorded in Hansard as having said, with reference to prices: "Those in the oil industry are very particular not to have anything to do with each other."

The charge of collusion is an extremely serious one and should not be made lightly. In fact, an infringement of the Combines Act is a criminal offense. If the gentleman who signs himself "Subscriber" has any evidence of collusion in the oil industry, we feel sure he will, as a matter of public interest, wish to transmit it to the proper authority in Ottawa—the Director of Investigation and Research, Restrictive Trade Practices Commission.

SWITCHBOARD

I was going to town on a Langford bus and a couple of ladies, "shall we say," were sure giving the Belmont telephone girls a going over.

For their information I would like them to know these girls are as smart as any place you can find; also these girls are the only girls I think that sit at a board for four to 4½ hours without a relief, and are paid class C wages. And the public is paying for class B. The boards are the type that was in the ark. And you will soon have worse service if many more quit. The girls' nerves are about shot now, taking the stuff that is handed to them.

If it was any other chief inspector, there wouldn't be any girls at all. They are just staying because they like her. Tell me a store, factory or any place where you don't get 10 to 15 minutes' break in four hours for coffee, and more so on a telephone board, where everybody is giving you — and you can't come back at them.

WEeping WHISTLE

When a sweeping whistle wails a wanton waste of steam, sadness reigns! Thanks to Bruce Hutchison in his Memo to Donald Gordon in last Tuesday's Times.

And truly, with invisible fingers at our ears, the whistle of the steam locomotive reaches the centre of our compass. Indeed, love's long lost chord is found in a weeping whistle's echo, set to make its plaintive play upon the human harp. For the sounding song of steam on steel, floating and flung from the flashing flyer, made merry with the hundred hours of rhyme and rhythm.

Let us hope Donald Gordon fully finds love's long lost chord. Not, we portray, in the modern Diesel's crescendo but rather in steam's joyous acclamation to all, in rich fulfillment of its passing place in history. 'Tis something men hold deep and dear. Epitaph: In buried bones of steam and steel no whistle wails to fools who feel, all men must moan that death rides high love's long lost chord which will not die!

A New Concept in the West

BY WALTER LIPPMANN, from Washington

THERE is no way of telling what part foreign policy played in the recent German election. But what we can tell, I do think, is that in the development of his own foreign policy Dr. Adenauer displayed such a very high order of statesmanship that he left his Social Democratic opponents without a genuine issue.

Two events must, I believe, have played a decisive part in the alteration of Dr. Adenauer's foreign policy. One was the uprising in Eastern Germany. The other was Churchill's speech of May 11.

The uprising, which was largely the work of the Social Democratic trade unionists, and the unification is the paramount and burning German demand.

Until then Dr. Adenauer's party, which is not strong in the Protestant East, had shown a conspicuous lack of fervor for reunification. After June 17 it was necessary to have a policy, which made sense, for achieving unification.

It was, however, evident that Russia would never agree to withdraw the Red army and let Germany be unified, and rearm within the NATO military system. Since that would bring the German-American military forces to the Polish frontier, it was silly to ask the Russians to consider such a project.

Dr. Adenauer must have known perfectly well that the Germans, who are not fools—least of all in military matters—would know it was silly. They would know that any German who proposed it could not be sincerely interested in German unity.

If Dr. Adenauer was to take a convincing stand for German unity, he had to take a convincing stand in favor of negotiation with the Soviet Union. But in Europe, where people know the facts of life, it was not enough to call for a negotiation about unity. It was not enough to keep on calling for free elections. It was necessary to make a negotiable proposal—not necessarily a proposal that the Russians would now accept but one which they could eventually accept.

This is where Churchill comes into it. His great and original contribution to the problem of the division of Germany and of Europe was not in the proposal to hold a high level conference. It was in the recognition—the first by any Western statesman since the cold war began—that if the Russians are ever to be induced to withdraw from Europe, they will have to be given a guarantee that Eastern Europe will not become the staging area and the recruiting ground for an anti-communist crusade.

Churchill put this crucial idea in the form of a suggestion of another Locarno Treaty. The reference was obscure because most people, including, I believe, Dr. Adenauer himself, had forgotten what Locarno was. The reference moreover was not entirely apt.

But what Churchill meant was of the greatest importance: that Russia can be expected to withdraw peacefully from Europe only if her security is guaranteed.

At first Dr. Adenauer was puzzled by the reference to Locarno. But when he had grasped Churchill's meaning, one may suppose after his visit to London, he adopted the idea as one of the cornerstones of his own policy.

On the Friday before the election he proposed to negotiate with the Russians over the European Defense Community and the regional alliances of the Soviet orbit for the purpose of working out some sort of general security system within the framework of the United Nations.

If this was not a radical transformation of the original underlying conception of the European Defense Community, it was a tremendous addition to it. For once you suggest that the European Defense Community is a matter about which there could be negotiation with the Soviet Union and with the Eastern satellites, you have come a very long way from where you started.

MARKED for READING

A COLONEL NEVER FORGETS

I had an old friend, a retired colonel, who had been in his day one of the great hunters of big game. Most of his life, when he was not soldiering, he had been on shikari in the jungles of Asia, and the forests of Africa. One day I was driving with him in his car down a country lane when he came upon what I can only describe as a super cow-pat. The most enormous cow-pat you have ever seen and the colonel, swerving the car to avoid it, remarked quite casually, as if it were the most natural thing in the world, "Hm — elephants" and sure enough in the quiet English lane a mile further on we overtook a travelling circus with an elephant behind the caravans.

—John Moore, the writer and broadcaster, speaking in a BBC program.

STRATFORD-ON-AVON FAST AND PRESENT

If your eyes are open you'll see everything. You'll see, for instance, that the Stratford of today is fitted like a jig-saw into the Stratford of many yesterdays. Today citizens live and work and enjoy themselves there; Shakespeare lived and worked and enjoyed himself there.

—Rosa May Sands speaking about Shakespeare's birthplace.

Take a Look at That Homework

MY friend George, whose formal education is considerably above average and who still reads "thinking" books, has come to a parent's inevitable conclusion.

Having provided a good percentage of the answers for his Grade 6 daughter's homework last year, and having been criticized for giving her the wrong dope, George is retiring gracefully from the homework field.

Daughter is in Grade 7 now. In the course of time she'll be moving up into High School, tackling quadratics and binomials, dealing with irregular verbs and the subjunctive, unscrambling case and declension.

George appreciates the fact that there are such things.

"I remember vaguely the words and phrases," he explains. "But somehow I've forgotten what they mean and what they are. That Grade 6 teacher last year didn't have too high an opinion of my ability. Perhaps if I withdrew, it will be better all around. And, obviously, the girl is going to get more out of her homework if she does it herself."

OBSCURE ANSWER

There, in oblique form, you have the answer to those critics of modern schools who contend that youngsters in class today don't know nothin' from nohow. The curriculum calls upon them to know considerably more than some adults.

The critics form quite an army and many of them are pretty intelligent, too. While some of the newspaper boys were asking the high brass of the chartered accountants' convention here last week how they hoped to make the public understand finance and balance sheets, they ran slap-bang into the conventional complaint.

The accountants, it seems, are interested in that problem, but they're infinitely more concerned with the problem of finding young office help that can read, write, spell and do simple figuring.

You appreciate the financial men's difficulties. And then, if you grew up with any of them who are highly successful accountants today, you may try to think back to the days when these same successful CAs were boys in school winning scholarships for their particular abilities. I recollect only one boy of my school group who has climbed to the higher realms of accountancy. And try as I do, I can't recall one scholarship or prize he won in class. Nor do I remember occasions when he was singled out by the teacher as a shining example of proficiency in reading, writing, spelling or arithmetic. Must be faulty memory on my part.

But if memory does play tricks on me, there's one path on which it runs true. I remember the excellent course in English literature we had in high school.

We were given a good, satisfying diet of Wordsworth, Keats, Shelley, Byron, Coleridge, some Shakespeare, a small touch of Macaulay, and the essayists, as well as some of the older classical masters. Then when we reached first year college, we were introduced to the war poets and the moderns in one section of the course, and taken back to Beowulf and Chaucer in another.

IT WOULD HELP THEM

I've always felt that kids today could derive a lot of literary appreciation from studying those writers. Even if they didn't understand all the allusions and nuances, they'd still, I believe, acquire a feeling and a sense for such material. The cadence and rhythm would have a subconscious influence on the youngsters and from that would develop an appetite for what we used to call the better things in literature.

I've read enough newspaper stories and listened to enough adult discussion to realize that the high school crowd today exists on a large and over-ripe diet of comic books and paperbacks. Like a lot of people my age, I'd hoped that the senior grade students at least would be exposed to the selected reading we were given, 20-30 years ago.

So last week I leafed through a 700-page text called "Adventures in English Literature." I found it a little surprising. All the poets and authors we studied in high school are included in it, along with some of those we didn't reach until college.

In today's tougher English course for what we called junior matric, you start with Beowulf and finish with Barrie's "The Old Lady Shows Her Medals." Wonder what I've been worrying about?

FROM WASHINGTON

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP

Stevenson Eyes the Future

UNLESS his friends and advisers are dead wrong, Adlai E. Stevenson has made up his mind that he wants a second try at the White House. This is the background fact against which to judge Stevenson's performance at the forthcoming Democratic rally in Chicago.

Stevenson, to be sure, has never said that he wants a second chance, even to those closest to him. But all sorts of signs and portents point in the same direction.

One such sign is a plan for a long state-by-state and even county-by-county tour of the United States, which Stevenson is seriously considering.

If Stevenson finally adopts this plan, his trip will be the domestic counterpart of his recent world tour. He will do a series of articles on the state of the nation, like his magazine articles on the state of the world, and he might eventually write a book. The idea offers to Stevenson a number of obvious advantages.

It would solve, at least for the time being, the problem which has worried Stevenson ever since his defeat—the problem of what to do with himself. It would also be one way of earning a living, another problem which faces him.

But more important, such a nation-wide tour would give Stevenson an opportunity to get on friendly personal terms with Democratic leaders in every important state, down to the county chairman level, and to achieve at the same time invaluable first-hand knowledge of local political situations.

He could do all this, moreover, without giving the impression—fatal in the case of Wendell Willkie, Harold Stassen, and other aspirants—of panting desperately for the nomination. Stevenson is significantly quite aware of these advantages of the plan for a national tour, whether or not he decides in the end to adopt the plan.

Two negative decisions which Stevenson has recently made also seem interesting straws in the wind. While he was abroad, he was offered the seat on the United Nations Delegation subsequently accepted by his campaign-time enemy, former Secretary of State James Byrnes. Stevenson firmly rebuffed the administration's offer, on the grounds, as he has told friends, that holding any post with the Eisenhower administration would compromise his political position.

Stevenson was also invited to address the Woodrow Wilson Foundation dinner, on October 1, in honor of another former Secretary of State, Dean G. Acheson. Stevenson is an officer of the foundation, but he begged off. He pointed out that he was making a major foreign policy speech on September 15, and said that he did not want to make another one within a two-week period.

But it is certainly not illogical to suspect that he may also have had in mind the political dangers of too close an identification with so battered a political punching bag as Acheson.

Then, of course, there were the carefully publicized telephone calls which Stevenson made to ex-President Truman, Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson, and House Leader Sam Rayburn.

Stevenson made these calls within a matter of hours of setting foot on his native soil—hardly the act of a man in whose bosom all political ambition is dead.

As of today, at least, Stevenson is clearly the man to beat. And it is good to know that Stevenson will not crawl into his shell, as he had half a mind to do after his defeat. For he has already proved that the opposition will be intelligent and rational, as long as he is its chief spokesman.

IN HOLLYWOOD

By ALINE MOSBY

80-Year-Old Film Critic

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Many film fans think of movie critics as cynical, suave men, but the dean of film critics the world over is a sweet-faced 80-year-old lady.

White-haired Grace Kingsley looks like somebody's grandmother who ought to be home knitting by the fire-side.

But she's hailed as the world's oldest living drama critic—a spry newspaper woman who still trots around to theatres and movie studios to review films for the Los Angeles Times.

She was one of the first movie writers when she got her job in 1913.

"Retire? Oh, I'd be lost without my work. I'd just die if I didn't do this," Miss Kingsley said briskly as she bustled out of a showing at Monogram studio of the latest Merle Oberon epic.

Miss Kingsley started out writing reviews of such epics as "Birth of a Nation" and "Blossoms in the Dust." She still treasures her interviews with early day luminaries Charlie Chaplin, Mabel Normand, Will Rogers and Mary Pickford.

In 40 years, she figures, she has viewed approximately 5,000 movies, which may be a record hunk of celluloid. She has survived this onslaught of plots and dialogue, often antique, but at times it tries her patience.

Nowadays, when she reviews Mexican movies, she stuffs her ears with cotton so she can read the English subtitles in blissful silence.

"Most movies these days are punk," she said. "It's the pattern! You can tell what's going to happen. And those 3-D glasses—I can't get them on over my own spectacles."

Miss Kingsley specializes in reviewing westerns, war pictures and sexy foreign films. She lives with two cats in a house near her paper, and gets around to theatres via street cars or her friends' autos. Grace used to cover burlesque, but retreated from that four years ago.

"The theatre people always thought I was a reformer come to see if the show was immoral," she said.

Island Digest

CAMPBELL RIVER—A verdict of accidental death was returned Saturday by a coroner's jury investigating the death of Kenneth Hoover, 16, fatally injured Sept. 9.

He was found pinned in his wrecked truck on the Salmon River Logging Co. road and died in hospital 24 hours later.

Constable W. J. Stewart, RCMP, said the truck apparently had been traveling at high speed when it left the road.

JORDAN RIVER—Bud Dunnett has been elected president of Jordan River Athletic Association to replace V. Redlick, who has left the district.

Funds have been voted to hard-surface the local tennis court, and Tom Doswell Jr., secretary, has received numerous entries for salmon and trout derbies.

COURTENAY—A request to the city council for permission to construct a two-story apartment of eight suites was referred to the town planning commission.

Ald. Lester Dobell and Sid Williams claimed the building should be allowed, since apartments were not specifically barred by by-law. Mayor Joe Hitchen and Ald. Arthur Tilbe claimed residents of the district concerned might object.

NANAIMO—Mayor George Muir has announced that a six-man town planning commission will be formed this year to work on the city "growing pains" problem.

According to J. W. Wilson, executive director of the Lower Mainland Regional Planning Division, the city's investment is now near $10,000,000.

CAMPBELL RIVER—A checking station at the junction of Elk Falls and Duncan Bay Roads revealed that 4,050 birds were shot in the district over the week-end by 780 hunters.

Don Robinson, biologist, reported the birds in better condition than for the previous five years.

Best hunting spots were at Upper Campbell Lake, Camp Five, Greenstone Lake and Beavertail Lake.

NANAIMO—Funeral services will be held here on Tuesday morning for Alexander Maxwell Manzer, 61, who died suddenly in Duncan last week while on a business trip.

Interment will take place in Vancouver, Tuesday afternoon. Surviving are his widow, at home; a daughter, Mrs. J. Sneddon, Nanaimo; two sons, Lyle, at home, and Mervin, Victoria; four brothers, and two sisters.

Two Workers Hurt in Fracas At Strikebound Sask. Plant

SASKATOON (CP)—Violence flared briefly at the strikebound Waldman and Paul garment manufacturing plant here Saturday when non-union employees forced their way through picket lines.

Two female strikers were badly shaken up in the fracas which occurred as pickets attempted to prevent non-union employees from entering the plant.

Twelve non-union men and women forced their way into the plant despite efforts by the pickets, members of the Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Union.

Power lines to the factory were mysteriously severed Friday morning. Electrical crews had the lines replaced by evening.

The rush on the picket lines was made after company officials propped open doors leading to the small factory.

Some 40 union employees walked out Wednesday after the company had rejected union demands for wage increases, 40-hour week, seniority recognition and job classification.

TOT DIES OF BURNS
SASKATOON (CP)—Douglas Anweiler, 3, died in hospital late Saturday from burns and shock suffered when an early-morning fire broke out in his bedroom.

His father, Norman Anweiler, was also admitted to hospital when he was severely burned by dashing naked into the room to rescue two of his three children from the blaze. Donald, 6, managed to get out of the room without being burned.

Six-month-old Betty was released from hospital after emergency treatment.

REPORT FEWER DUCKS

WINNIPEG (CP)—Hunters trigger-itchy with the approach of autumn were told Sunday in a report issued by Ducks Unlimited that the waterfowl population is down approximately 25 per cent from last year.

The report, which added that diving ducks are thriving, said the decline is "due to limited breeding success of two major sporting species"—mallards and pintails.

It continued: "Canada geese have not done as well as last year. On the other hand, canvasbacks, redheads, scaup, the teal, baldpate, gadwall and shovellers have done well. The success of the diving ducks conforms to the general rule that they do well in a wet year."

KILLED BY TRUCK
WINNIPEG (CP)—Dennis Yurkiw, 20-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Yurkiw, was killed during the week end when he was crushed by the wheels of a truck driven by his uncle, RCMP report.

Glutted Log Markets Cause Woods Crisis

VANCOUVER—The hemlock and cedar market is glutted, B.C. lumbermen complain. And many of the 12,000 logging and milling operations, marginal propositions, are facing a critical period.

The relatively fire-free summer has tripled the seasonal cut, and unless small operators have fir stands they fear extinction.

"Larger operators, with both lumber camps and sawmills,

Shell Oil Blast Hurts 7 in Martinez

MARTINEZ, Calif. (UP)—Seven men were injured tonight when an explosion rocked the Shell Oil Company refinery here, disrupting power and telephone service.

Officials at community hospital said four of the men suffered "extensive" burns and their condition was reported "fair." Doctors were forced in surgery to work with an emergency battery light.

The fire department said the blaze, which followed the explosion, was brought under control within an hour and a half. There were approximately 18 pieces of equipment from Martinez and Shell fighting the fire, a department spokesman said.

Police reported the explosion took place in one of the chemical units used in the refining of gasoline. Extent of the damage is still uncertain.

'Call-Girl' Ring Revealed In Chicago

CHICAGO (UP)—Police charged today that an escort service, advertising the company of "glamorous models" was really a million-dollar vice ring that offered the favors of call girls at "astronomical prices."

The operator of the service, Kay Jarrett, 45, has been associated with several figures in the sensational Minot (Mickey) Jelke call girl case in New York. She denied the pandering charges filed against her here.

Detective Russell Burton, who led the raid, said that lonely businessmen paid $25 to $500 a night for the company of the escort service, but that in some cases fees were "astronomical."

One girl allegedly admitted pocketing earnings of $4,000 in a single week.

There is no authentic record of the origin of the office of poet-laureate of England.

CATHOLIC CLERGY VICTIMS OF YUGOSLAVIA HOODLUMS

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (UP)—Roman Catholics said today that five of their churchmen have been attacked and some injured seriously in the last week in mounting outbreaks of public violence against clergymen.

One attack was witnessed by six U.S. tourists. Police seized camera films one of the tourists, a woman, had taken of the attack.

The campaign, aimed at both the Roman Catholic and Serb orthodox religions, has been mounting for some months. Church circles said it now is taking on the character of organized hooliganism and police apparently are permitting it to go on without interference.

Yankees Near Fifth AL Flag

Today is V-Day for manager Casey Stengel and his New York Yankees.

"V" stands for five, the record number of consecutive pennants Stengel and his Yankees are certain of winning, a feat never accomplished before by club or manager.

The world champions reduced their "magic number" to two Sunday by defeating Cleveland Indians 6-3 on a Johnny Mize pinch-hit home run with two on in the eighth.

The Brooklyn Dodgers clinched the National League flag Saturday.

Chicago White Sox officially faded out of the pennant race Sunday, losing 7-6 to the Red Sox in Boston. In other American League games, Detroit solidified its hold on sixth place, sweeping a double-header from Washington 10-4 and 6-4 while St. Louis Browns and Philadelphia As divided.

The Browns spoiled Ottawa's rookie righthander Bob Trice's major league debut, defeating the Negro 5-2 in the opener. The

As won the second 2-0 as Harry Byrd ended a personal nine-game losing streak.

Chicago's seventh-place Cubs extended their winning streak to nine straight, defeating the champion Brooklyn Dodgers 3-2 in 10 innings. St. Louis Cardinals rolled up 19 hits, crushing Philadelphia Phils 17-3 for Harvey Haddix' 18th win.

SOUTH VICTORY
Warren Spahn won his 20th as Milwaukee split a double-header with New York Giants. Joe Adcock's 18th homer won a 2-1 duel from Larry Jansen in the opener. Five unearned runs in the fourth inning gave Marv Grissom and the Giants a 7-4 victory in the nightcap.

After Pittsburgh's Paul LaPalme pitched a seven-hit 5-4 triumph in the opener, Cincinnati came back to win the second game 8-6 to hand the Pirates' Murry Dickson his 19th defeat.

STARS TOP COAST LOOP BY PLENTY

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Pacific Coast League baseball teams wound up their season Sunday with the Hollywood Stars repeating as champions, eight games in front of Seattle.

Although losing their last two series, the Stars coasted in with plenty to spare to give manager Bobby Bragan the pennant in his first year with the club. Bragan succeeded Fred Haney, who moved to the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National League.

The finish was much like preseason crystal gazers had foreseen, with the Stars and Seattle Rainiers the top clubs. Rounding out the first division are the Los Angeles Angels in third place and Portland Beavers in fourth.

Morse Takes Rifle Trophy

Frankie Morse Saturday captured the Weiler Reagan Trophy, firing an aggregate score of 269 over three stages in the rifle competition at Heals Range.

Capt. W. B. McKay, Frank Drysdale and Dave McCreedy won the three stages respectively and each will receive a silver ash tray.

Saturday McCreedy was top marksman with 87x100 while Major A. M. T. Spittal placed second with 84x100. Chuck Hobson fired 82x100 and E. Nicholson scored 82x100. Morse scored 80x100.

Vessels Puts Eskimos on Top

Dazzling Billy Vessels, Edmonton's fleet back from the Oklahoma Sooners, personally put his team atop the Western Interprovincial Football Union Saturday night.

Vessels snatched one touchdown pass and swept 40 yards for another major as the Eskimos pummeled Saskatchewan Roughriders 13-1. The victory broke a first-place tie and put the Eskimos in the lead with eight points, two ahead of Winnipeg Blue Bombers, who lost 23-14 to Calgary Stampeders.

In the East, Ottawa's surging Rough Riders battered down a desperate Toronto Argonaut rally Saturday to climb into a three-way tie for first place in the Big Four Football Union. The 20-16 win over the Canadian champions put Ottawa atop the four-club heap along with Hamilton Tiger-Cats and Montreal Alouettes.

Edmonton's initial major before 15,300 fans came in the first four minutes. The Eskimos swept up a Saskatchewan fumble, cracked through for a first down and then Vessels gathered in a pass from Rolfe Miles for the touchdown, converted by Ted Tully.

Capt. W. B. McKay, Frank Drysdale and Dave McCreedy won the three stages respectively and each will receive a silver ash tray.

Good Entry Indicated In Minor Soccer Loops

It looks like a successful year is ahead of Division One in the Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Football Association.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Mental Conditions May Be Caused by Tension, Heredity

By EDWIN JORDAN, MD

Mrs. F. has asked whether a nervous breakdown and nervous exhaustion are the same. This, however, is difficult to answer, since both terms are rather vague, medically speaking, and are not applied to any single mental or nervous disease. Therefore, both conditions have differing symptoms and different causes.

True, in some of those who are said to have a nervous breakdown or nervous exhaustion, the cause seems to be worry, nervous fatigue or distress. In many, the symptoms are relatively mild, and recovery often comes fairly quickly. In others, "nervous breakdown" is used to describe some serious mental disease involving great alteration of personality and a slow recovery.

CAUSE BIG ISSUE

Just as in other human ailments, the problem is to find out what is causing the nervous or mental difficulty. This is not always easy. The causes of many mental conditions are not thoroughly understood. Some of them may come from the heavy strains of modern life and the great mental tensions produced by the world of today. A few, but by no means all, are possibly inherited.

Mental treatment (psychotherapy) administered by brain specialists, physical therapy (including hot or cold baths), rest, handwork and shock treatments are often helpful and have brought thousands back to normal.

Although much still has to be learned about causes, prevention and treatment of the various kinds of mental diseases, progress is already far advanced and, even better results will surely come.

MANY RECOVER FULLY

The fortunate thing is that many will recover and find themselves quite normal again. Lots of people who have gone away for a while with a nervous breakdown come back to their family and friends entirely restored to health.

Family, friends and neighbors should always be careful not to criticize, particularly since the victim of one of these nervous disorders is likely to be extremely sensitive. They would not criticize someone who suffered from heart disease, and the person with any kind of "nervous breakdown" is no more responsible for his or her condition than if he or she had any other disorder.

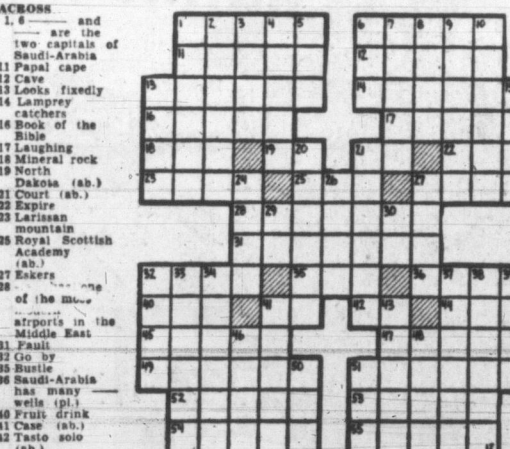

Hume to Push Airport Sale

VANCOUVER (CP)—A three-man delegation headed by Mayor Fred Hume will launch a campaign later this month to complete the sale of international airport to the federal government.

Mayor Hume said Saturday he is arranging a meeting with Transport Minister Lionel Chevrier September 25, immediately following the four-day convention of Mayors and Municipalities.

Negotiations for the sale of the airport have been going on since 1949.

Walsingham in Norfolk, England, is the site of a Catholic shrine built in 1061.

Ontario Snowstorm Wrecks Hydro Lines

TIMMINS, Ont. (CP)—A snowstorm reaching almost mid-winter blizzard proportions Saturday night and early Sunday caused thousands of dollars damage to hydro lines, telephone lines and trees in the Timmins district.

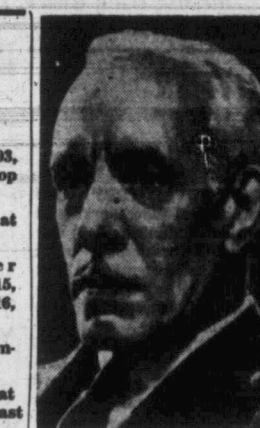

Following hard on the heels of 30 hours of continuous rain, the heavy wet snow snapped hydro poles and wires and smashed down trees.

Army and Navy Club In Richmond Robbed

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Army and Navy Club in Richmond was robbed of $126 early Sunday morning by safecrackers, who police say "planned their job very carefully."

"Probably more than one man took part in the job," said an RCMP officer, "because the heavy safe had been dragged into a back room before being blown."

The banana plant, now chiefly grown in the tropics and West Indies, is believed to have originally come from Asia.

LEWIS STONE

Lewis Stone Dies After Chasing Boys

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Lewis Stone, the popular "Judge Hardy" of the movies and a show-business figure for more than 50 years, is dead.

The 73-year-old actor collapsed on the sidewalk and died of a heart attack at his home Saturday night after chasing teen-age boys who had been prowling around his swimming pool.

The widow, Mrs. Hazel Stone, told police that previously boys had thrown garden furniture in the pool. She said that while her husband was watching a television program, he heard prowlers outside and went out to chase them, although she warned him against exertion.

Stone, known for his kindness to movie beginners in his position as unofficial dean of Hollywood actors, was an honored guest only last week at an M-G-M luncheon. Dore Schary, head of this studio where Stone made most of his pictures, presented the actor with a golden lifetime key to his dressing room.

Stone completed a picture, "All the Brothers Were Valiant," only a few weeks ago, although in recent years he had curtailed his acting.

New York Theatre-Goers Applaud Margot Fonteyn

NEW YORK (AP)—Margot Fonteyn, London's ballet star, got such a warm and noisy welcome in the Metropolitan Opera House Sunday night that you would have thought Londoners themselves could hear it.

It was the gala opening of Sadler's Wells ballet on its third visit to New York, and it marked the start of a third North American tour.

Miss Fonteyn led the company in a full-length, four-act performance of "Le Lac des Cygnes."

Though she was handsomely supported by a cast that included Michael Somes, Anne Heaton, Pamela May, Lesqie Edwards, Alexander Grant and others, Miss Fonteyn gave the evening its special flavor.

The best part of her rare theatrical and balletic gifts is a kind of courtly grace and elegance.

Miss Fonteyn's appearance in Act II let loose the first fiery burst of applause, and she did it again after performing with Somes in that act and the next.

There probably is no life, animal or vegetable, on the moon.

REUTHER TO VISIT VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER (CP)—Representatives of industry and business Saturday asked Labor Minister Lyle Wicks to amend the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act to give the Labor Relations Board complete power to conduct strike votes.

The amendment to controversial Section 75 of the act was recommended at a conference here, called by the labor minister to discuss ways of changing British Columbia's labor legislation.

It was in head-on disagreement with labor, which wants the section removed from the act so unions may conduct their own strike votes. At present, they handle strike votes under board supervision.

JAYCEES INSTALL OFFICERS Before Presidential Ball

Installation of new officers of the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce was conducted Saturday night.

President Jack Ledger headed the list of Jaycees who will guide the group through the forthcoming year.

The event preceded the annual presidential ball in the lower ballroom of the Crystal Garden.

"Battle of Beliefs" was the title of an address given by guest speaker and B.C. oratorical contest winner within the group, William Eilers of Vancouver.

Condemning the philosophies and practices of Communism, the speaker praised the Victoria group for its anti-Communist campaign.

Other new officers installed included Alfred Heaslip and Lorraine Kirk, vice-presidents; Donald Kern, secretary; Ira Hill, James Nicol, Boyd Moore, Bruce Dawson, Norman Johnson, Frank Moxam, Frank Manix and Norman Heaslip, directors.

William Caxton, England's first printer, produced at least 100 different volumes in various sized editions.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

A story in the morning paper regarding the coming session of the Legislature had this to say about the possible new liquor act:

"Backbenchers, too, are divided on the question, and the liquor bill may be watered down before it gets to the floor of the House."

Well, if the liquor bill is watered-down, I couldn't think of anything more appropriate.

The liquor itself sure is watered-down before it gets to the gullet of the consumer.

Friend of mine who is a chemist explained this situation to me the other day.

"What happens to the water when it is put in the bottles they sell on Humboldt Street and on Johnson Street?" I asked him. "Does a chemical change take place?"

"In a way, yes," he said, "but the greatest change is in the price."

While we are on the subject of liquor legislation, I hope no government snapper will swing into action after reading Saturday's story about A. V. Cox.

Mr. Cox, you will remember, is the gentleman who conquers the wasp problem by feeding the little fellows an intoxicating mash, which they devour eagerly until they fall down drunk.

Mr. Cox is a brave man to make public this method of wasp extermination; in doing so he tacitly confesses to the contravention of a parcel of liquor laws. Such as:

Being in possession of alcohol on which no excise tax has been paid.

Being in possession of alcohol in a public place.

Serving alcohol to a large group without a provincial government party permit.

Being in possession of alcohol not watered-down to government substandards.

Serving alcohol to minors. (If wasps aren't minors, at least they are borer).

I trust Mr. Cox will be excused on the grounds of intent to act in the best interests of the public at large.

Incidentally, I was much intrigued by the various anti-wasp methods suggested by Times readers who have had occasion to tangle with the beasts.

But I wonder if the simplest of all has occurred to our Assistant Editor in Charge of Wasps?

Our A. E. J. C. Wasps should ask each subscriber to the Times to perform one daily chore:

After reading his favorite newspaper, roll same up into a tight cylinder, go find a wasp, and wham it with the paper.

If each reader did this each day throughout the year, approximately 1,040,000 wasps would bite the dust annually.

Anyone here for wasp-walloping?

ABSENT-MINDED CELEBRANT CELEBRATES ARID ANNIVERSARY

Somewhere in this area, a black Austin sedan is driving around, with a bottle of champagne aging quietly under the back seat.

Either that—or the owner of the car had an unexpected third-thunder over the week-end — all because John R. Orford, Colwood, was absent-minded on his 20th wedding anniversary.

He purchased the champagne Saturday, and placed it under the back seat of his parked car.

At least, he believed it to be his car, until he arrived home minus champagne—and realized he'd stowed the bubbly in someone else's Austin.

His telephone number is Belmont 273-F, but Mr. Orford won't be surprised if he fails to hear from the new owner of the champagne.

A protest petition from 21 persons calling for action on clearing out bush land on the Dallas waterfront between South Turner Street and Douglas, won Mayor Claude Harrison's moral support today.

"I would like to see that area cleared out and the petition will be given every consideration, but it is a question of money and when the department can get to the work," said the mayor.

Thomas Monk, 576 Dallas Road, wrote the mayor and council, stating council had already been told of the "filthy menace this unkempt bush creates."

"It is located in front of homes paying waterfront taxes and is daily used as a latrine," he wrote. "On many occasions the service of the police has been obtained to provide protection for women who have been molested by some moron lurking in the bush."

PNE Queen Rules Over Fellow-Students Here

An apple for the teacher-to-be is proffered by four young men students at Victoria Normal School, who foresee a pleasant year of schooling in the company of Lynn Adcock, of Vernon, who was recently crowned queen of the Pacific National Exhibition in Vancouver. "Education—it's wonderful," is the judgment of (left to right), Bill Broadley, Terry Sarell, Dave Dunnison and Alf Foxgord. Miss PNE accepted the apple graciously, but as a loyal resident of Vernon, she was disappointed to learn it was grown in Saanich. Okanagan apples are much superior, she claimed. SOCRED LEGISLATIVE PHALANX CAUSES NO JITTERS FOR CCF

Premier Bennett's apparent "show of force" in the Legislature doesn't scare CCF Leader Arnold Webster.

The Opposition leader was referring to the new seating plan in the House whereby all 27 government members are located on one side and the thinner ranks of the opposition on the other.

The arrangement makes the government side look heavy.

Usually the seating is arranged with an even number on each side.

"Force doesn't consist of numbers," commented Mr. Webster. "I think the combined opposition will be equal to the occasion. The concentration of government forces is not going to impress the opposition or frighten us."

WHO IS WHO?

I Like Ike; Ike I Like To Look Like

When Morris Cays of Port Angeles, got off the boat in Victoria last Saturday he thought perhaps things would be different.

He thought perhaps Canadians wouldn't notice.

But in the last three days, he found people here are just the same as those of his own country. When they see him they either stare, point, smile or whisper.

It's all because he looks like U.S. President Dwight Eisenhower.

The Times had a "hurry-up, come quick" call this morning when Mr. Cays visited a local restaurant for breakfast. Other patrons noticed the likeness immediately, and some speculated "it must be his brother."

Mr. Cays, who drives an oil truck at Port Angeles, takes such things in his stride.

A native of Oregon and a veteran of the First World War, he's about the same age, build and height as the president and sounds something like him when he speaks.

Mr. Cays was first tagged as a ringer for Eisenhower shortly after the end of the Second World War when he was working in Port Angeles as a mail carrier. He was stopped by a major, who had served overseas with Gen. Eisenhower, and was certain the postman must be some relative.

NICKNAME

Later, when Mr. Cays went to work in Bremerton, his fellow workers called him "Ike."

An active sportsman in his younger days, he takes things easier now because of a back injury. Like President Eisenhower, however, he likes golf. Sunday, he played his first game in two years with Frank and Betty Peacock, of Lee Avenue, and potted a hole-in-one on the 135-yard ninth.

Who's who above? In the three pictures, President Eisenhower is shown in the middle, Mr. Cays in the other two.

STRICTLY BUSINESS

Bennett Gives Session Aims

By GORDON FORBES

The first session of the 24th Legislature, opening at 3 p.m. Tuesday, will be "a business session with a minimum of entertainment," Premier W. A. C. Bennett said today.

The premier thus set the keynote for the session, the second this year, which will finish the business the minority—now a majority—Social Credit government set out to do last year.

Premier Bennett, obviously proud as he left an early cabinet meeting to attend the first government caucus, said: "This will be a business session with a minimum of entertainment. The Social Credit government is now a majority government."

"It intends to carry on the business of the province with dispatch and put forward its policies of good government."

The lighter side of the session obviously is going to be played down this year. There will be no state ball or state dinner.

The only Government House affair is a reception for MLAs and prominent guests after the official opening.

Flanked by his two stalwarts, Attorney-General Robert Bonner and Finance Minister Einar Gunderson, the premier then marched into the caucus and shook hands with his supporters.

Meanwhile, Opposition Leader Arnold Webster sat in his office going about his work quietly and methodically.

Leader Outlines CCF Tactics

In a pre-session statement, Mr. Webster laid down the CCF course of action. "As far as we are concerned we expect a short and busy session, having in mind the great deal of unfinished business from the spring session."

"We have no intention of obstructing or needlessly lengthening proceedings, but neither will we be hurried to the point of neglecting full examination of every measure."

Liberal Leader Arthur Laing was expected to arrive in the capital this afternoon. The staid corridors of the Legislative Buildings became alive with activity this morning as MLAs poured in from all over the province.

There was handshaking aplenty and the members spent some time swapping yarns about the recent election campaign.

The CCF will caucus this afternoon, and the Liberals probably as soon as Mr. Laing arrives. The CCF held a caucus Saturday.

Dr. Larry Giovando of Nanaimo, the Progressive Conservative party in the House, hasn't arrived yet but is expected tonight or early Tuesday.

It didn't take long for fun-loving Tom Uphill of Fernie, starting his 34th year in the House, to find the only lady member of the House, Secord Mrs. Lydia Arsens of Victoria.

Tom was willing to pose for pictures in a fond embrace with Mrs. Arsens, but the lady wouldn't have any part of it.

"I see you're trying to keep up your reputation," joked Mrs. Arsens.

"Well come in and see my office," cracked the Labor MLA.

Mrs. Arsens looked from the doorway.

Three Go to Higher Court In Theft Case

Preliminary hearings in city police court arising from a $1,000 robbery of truck tires in August from Stewart & Hudson Ltd., 405 Gorge, were completed today.

Committed for trial in higher courts by Magistrate H. C. Hall were Edward James Minnie, John Deighton and Jaswant Singh Dillon, all of Victoria.

Minnie has been charged with breaking into the firm's warehouse and stealing 13 tires. Deighton is charged with receiving nine tires from Minnie, knowing the same to have been stolen. Charge against the East Indian is that he unlawfully retained in his possession four stolen tires, the property of Stewart and Hudson.

Magistrate Hall remanded Singh until tomorrow morning for formal commitment at the request of counsel who wished to arrange bail.

The hearings resulted in a casualty this morning. Detective Angus Munro was taken home after he had wrenched his back in helping to bring the heavy tires into court. Magistrate Hall last week ordered all 13 tires concerned in the cases must be brought into the court as exhibits.

Hotelmen Defend Vancouver Island Beverage Rooms

Charges made recently in Victoria against conditions in hotel beverage rooms were "irresponsible and without foundation," according to reports delivered before a meeting of the directors of the B.C. Hotels Association in Dominion Hotel this morning.

Emil Wener, Vancouver, first vice-president and chairman of the committee, reported that field supervision within the hotel industry, by the industry itself, is helping raise the standards of hotels throughout the province.

Investigations by representatives of the association, he said, "conclusively proved" that charges against Vancouver Island beverage rooms were without foundation.

About 70 hotelmen and their wives are attending the one-day meeting here.

Value of the association's field supervision and public relations campaigns are being stressed at the business sessions.

Society of Industrial and Cost Accountants of British Columbia will meet in the Kent Room at the Empress Hotel Tuesday at 8 p.m.

Secretary-manager C. H. Davis, RIA, will speak on the society and its place in industry. He will also discuss courses of study available to member.

Chief points in his platform include belief that the mayor should be "an ambassador of good will," that he should make committee appointments in keeping with an alderman's experience in private life and should strive for harmony and co-operation in council.

The alderman was first elected for a one-year term in 1951 and re-elected last year for two years.

He has served on public works committee, parks and has been chairman of street lighting. He is a city member on the Greater Victoria Water Board, a director of the Victoria and Vancouver Island Publicity Bureau and a director of the Greater Victoria Celebrations Association.

He is a past president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. At present he is serving as vice-chairman of the civic affairs group. Ald. Smith was a defeated Social Credit candidate in the 1952 provincial election.

Feature of the new models is the first Canadian version of new high fidelity equipment for the home.

Mayor Asks Air Power Show for Victorians

Mayor Claude Harrison wired Ottawa today to have Victoria included in plans for a gigantic air show set for Vancouver Saturday to mark Air Force Day across Canada.

Vampire jets, Mustangs and other aircraft are slated to zoom through their paces at Vancouver in an hour-long demonstration of formation flying and aerobatics.

Air force officials say the full three-hour ceremonies will give the public a chance to see how their tax dollars are being spent for air defense. Seven hundred air force personnel will participate. The RCA station at Vancouver will be open to the public.

"Victoria, the capital city should certainly be included in any plans for Air Force Day," said the mayor.

"Our people should be able to see where their tax dollars are going also."

In his wire the mayor said he felt it would be "very suitable to extend the show and have one here of a similar type." The wire went to the department of national defense.

RCAF officers expect a crowd of 25,000 at the Vancouver show.

Surf Swamps Fishermen at Otter Point

Startled Boatmen Barely Escape What They Thought Was Tidal Wave

Several persons were injured, three boats capsized and others were damaged, and considerable fishing tackle was lost at Gordon Beach, near Otter Point, Sunday as fishermen landed their tiny craft in heavy surf.

Albie Davies, 463 Niagara, said waves began to sweep the bay suddenly, and continued during the afternoon.

Mrs. J. Davies, 719 Selkirk Avenue, fishing with her husband, was struck by their boat as it overturned and was nearly swept out to sea by the powerful undertow.

She was pulled to safety by Freddie Woods, 210 Menzies Street.

An unidentified woman was knocked unconscious when a second boat overturned, but she recovered quickly. All escaped from the capsizing of the third boat.

Experienced fishermen at Gordon Bay, also known as "To-bacco Road Beach," discounted reports that the waves and surf had been caused by an earthquake creating a tidal wave.

"It happens frequently here that people will start off in a flat calm and find themselves in a high sea 30 minutes later," one resident reported. "The long, rolling seas will cause no discomfort or alarm, however, and only cause trouble when fishermen have to land their boats through surf that was non-existent when they set sail."

Estimates of the waves ranged from six to 15 feet in height. Logs were tossed about like matchsticks, witnesses said.

Inhabitants say such weather and conditions are common in October, but rather unusual at this time.

Another witness said the sea was calm, then suddenly receded, built up a tremendous volume of water, and crashed in waves 12 to 15 feet high.

Observers at Port Renfrew and Pachena Point, however, reported seeing nothing that would indicate a tidal wave. There have been no reports of earthquake shocks recorded here or elsewhere.

Arson Hinted In Mt. Douglas Park Blaze

Fire, which may have been set deliberately, burned over four acres of bush in the Mount Douglas Park area early today.

Sergeant Jack Hamilton of Saanich police discovered the blaze at 5:40 a.m. on a routine patrol.

A 1,000-gallon tanker truck provided water for 3,000 feet of hose line used to quench the fire. It was under control by 7:40 but a crew stayed on the scene to thoroughly drench the ground.

Saanich firemen do not rule out the possibility of incendiarism. The area is remote, pathless and rugged.

City May Renew Charity Grants

Grants to charity in Victoria, cut out by City Council for the past two years on grounds of lack of money, may be restored to some extent in 1954, it was learned today.

Mayor Claude Harrison said that owing to the city's improved financial condition this past year, he did not think council would need to ask the electorate by way of a referendum, if they wanted to set aside so much annually for charitable grants.

Council last March unanimously supported a motion of Ald. Robert MacMillan that the public be asked if it wishes council to put aside up to one-half a mill annually—about $25,000 this year — to make grants to charity.

"I am making no promises," said the mayor. "but I think charitable grants may be looked on more favorably, depending on our finances at the year's end. I don't think we need a referendum."

Smith Third Candidate For Mayoralty

Victoria has three candidates for the mayoralty in December following announcement late Saturday by Ald. Don Smith that he would resign from council this fall to run for the office.

Mayor Claude Harrison and Ald. Percy Seurrah are already in the running.

Ald. Smith, 34, said the keynote of his campaign will be "unity and co-operation" in City Council. He said council spirit is at its lowest ebb.

Chief points in his platform include belief that the mayor should be "an ambassador of good will," that he should make committee appointments in keeping with an alderman's experience in private life and should strive for harmony and co-operation in council.

The alderman was first elected for a one-year term in 1951 and re-elected last year for two years.

Two Children Newest Island Polio Victims

Duncan Baby Rushed Here for Treatment

Polio struck twice over the week-end, choosing children as its victims in both cases—infants from Saanich and Duncan.

A baby boy was rushed here from Duncan Saturday and a three-year-old boy from Saanich was also admitted to isolation at Royal Jubilee Hospital on Sunday.

Health authorities are hoping for cooler weather which usually signifies a decrease in the number of cases reported.

The latest cases bring to 50 the number reported this year in Greater Victoria and to 62 the total for Vancouver Island. There have been three deaths.

Sunday School Hall Planned By St. Andrew's

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church has purchased the property behind a new block of stores on the site of Prince Robert House, and will construct a Sunday school hall there next year, it was learned today.

The church paid $20,000 for the property, making the purchase from a four-man syndicate headed by Charles Dale.

D. M. Lidstone, chairman of the church's board of managers, reported plans for the new building have not yet been drawn. "We believe the site is ideal for the purpose," he said.

The property has 95 feet frontage on Courtenay Street, and a depth of 96 feet.

St. Andrew's was given the first opportunity to make an offer for the property.

ASK THE TIMES

Q.—Can you tell me how Cameron Lake (Vancouver Island) received its name?—N.McM.

A.—In 1860 Capt. Richards of H.M.S. Plumper named the lake after Hon. David Cameron, Chief Justice of Vancouver Island. The Hon. Cameron was the first judge of the British Crown colony of Vancouver Island and received his appointment Dec. 2, 1853; he resigned Oct. 11, 1865. Born in Scotland he first came to Vancouver Island in 1853 to a position in the Hudson's Bay Company at Nanaimo, in connection with the coal mines. His wife was a sister of Governor James Douglas. Cameron died in 1872.

Q.—Is it possible for "A" to cash a cheque made out to "B", the cheque having been endorsed by "B"—B.F.P.

A.—Yes, if the cheque is otherwise in order and endorsed also by "A."

Luxurious Black Velvet Is Making a Big Hit!

By PENNY SAVER

"What you need is a short black evening cape!" I tried to tell my friend when she slipped an ordinary shortie coat over her frothy white formal. She didn't agree with me, though, until I told her that she could get one for just $12.98. That did it... next day she bought one and now she simply can't wait for another chance to "go formal" so she can wear it. The expensive-looking capelet is elbow-length and has fold-back lapels... lined with taffeta, too!

Black velvet seems to be making a hit, 'cause I've seen quite a number of stylish evening items fashioned from it. One rather snappy one is a waist-length jacket with three-quarter-length sleeves and fold-back lapels... features rhinestone buttons too, and all for $10.98!

Then you may buy a black velvet evening skirt to match. By saying "evening skirt" I don't mean formal length. It's just that one would never wear this skirt at the office or to go shopping... it's sort of for semi-formal occasions I would think. With flared skirt and big patch pockets, it costs $9.95.

Lately when people ask me for baby shower gift suggestions, I've been saying:

"Why not make some booties?" Then they usually give me a sceptical look and say:

"Who, me? I can't knit!" But that's just it. You don't have to know how to knit, or sew either... much! You see, when you buy a baby bootie kit with the easy-to-follow instructions, it's a snap. Pieces of fine white leather are ready cut and punched with tiny holes for you to sew together with bright colored thread, also supplied in the kit. Finished product is usually attractive and serviceable. Costs you just $2.49.

Woman of 40 Appears Tied to Apron Strings

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, Ph.D.

When a married woman runs home to see her mother, leaving her husband at home alone, does it always mean she is immaturely tied to parental apron strings? A man writes:

(Q) "I am married to a woman a few years younger than I. She is 40 years old. We have been married for 12 years. She only stays with me for a few months and then she goes to her mother's home. She says, 'Blood is thicker than water'. I always thought that when people were married, they should stay together. She claims that our home is as much hers as mine, which it is, so why can't she stay here instead of going to her mother? Is she depending on her mother to tell her what to do? I think she should have her own ideas and stand on her own two feet. What do you think can be done?"

(A) Don't jump to conclusions about your wife's immaturity without considering her side of the story. Is her mother a widow who lives alone? If so, your wife may feel that it is her duty to be with her part of the time.

Then there is the possibility that your wife does not have enough to do at home and has too few outside interests. This makes her bored and perhaps a bit homesick for the familiar surroundings of her youth and her old friends. So she goes back to the place where she feels more at home.

After you find out what is back of your wife's actions, you will then be in a position to correct the cause of the trouble. Then and then only will she be willing to remain in your home and make only occasional visits to her mother's home.

If you have a personal problem, write Elizabeth Hurlock in care of this newspaper.

Wed in Ceremony At Vancouver

A former Victoria girl, Alma Rowena Morris, daughter of Mrs. Henry E. Morris and the late Mr. Morris, Vancouver, was united in marriage with Gordon Edmund Zoehner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weidner, Vancouver, in a ceremony in Fairview Baptist Church, Vancouver, Saturday evening. Rev. S. M. Hirtle officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Church was decorated with early fall flowers.

A gown of net and lace over satin with bouffant skirt strapless bodice and jacket of delicate Chantilly lace was worn by the attractive bride. A tiny cap of lace and satin trimmed with clusters of pearls caught her cloud of French veiling and she carried a cascade bouquet of deep red roses and white stephanotis.

Miss Joyce Main, Victoria, was maid of honor, wearing a gown of yellow net over taffeta with colonial bouquet of popcorn chrysanthemums and matching headpiece. William MacMillan was best man and ushers were Daniel Morris and Howard Karas.

Reception was held at Lion's Gate Hall, where Grant Paterson, Victoria, proposed the toast to the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Zoehner will travel southward on honeymoon, the bride wearing a grey suit, white hat and navy accessories, with corsage of red roses.

Ceremony at Queen of Peace Church

A double-ring ceremony in Queen of Peace Church has recently united Kathleen Frances Ballantyne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh F. Ballantyne, 3127 Millgrove Street, with Lorne Earl Harkin, son of Mr. J. A. Harkin, Ottawa, and the late Mrs. Harkin. Father L. MacLellan performed the ceremony.

Traditional organ music was played by Mrs. A. Smith, and Mrs. J. Bone sang "Ave Maria" during signing of the register. Baskets of white gladioli and red carnations were placed at the front of the church, and guest pews were marked with white satin bows.

Coming up the aisle on her father's arm, the bride was charming in a gown styled with strapless lace bodice and skirt of pleated nylon net over white tulle with overskirt of chantilly lace falling into a brief train. Her fitted lace jacket had a Peter Pan collar and lily-point sleeves, and a coronet of diamonds and pearls held her mother's fingertip veil of embroidered net. She wore the groom's gift of pearl earrings and carried a colonial bouquet of red carnations and white stephanotis with white satin streamers.

Maid of honor was Miss Roberta Ballantyne, sister of the bride, who was gowned in mauve with embossed taffeta bodice and bolero and skirt of net over taffeta. She wore a Juliet cap of matching net with flowers and elbow-length mitts.

Similar gowns in turquoise and pale blue respectively were worn by bridesmaids, Miss Marilyn Ballantyne, sister of the bride, and Miss Shirley Fulton, her cousin. All carried colonial bouquets.

The bride's three and a half year old sister, Wendy, was flower girl. She wore an off-shoulder frock of petal pink dotted organza over flounced taffeta with matching Juliet cap and net mitts. She carried a basket of flowers.

Mr. William Galley was best man, while Mr. A. Johnson and Mr. E. Jodoin ushered.

A reception followed at Hampton Hall, where the bride and groom stood before a flower-banked fireplace under wedding bells which had been used at the bride's parents' and grandparents' wedding.

As the bridal party left the church, a guard of honor was formed by the First Marigold Guide Company, of which Mrs. Harkin is lieutenant.

Mrs. Ballantyne wore French blue faille with navy blue accessories and tulle-rose corsage.

The three-tier wedding cake was embedded in tulle to match the attendants' gowns. Mr. C. Bosustow proposed the toast to his granddaughter.

Leaving on honeymoon, Mrs. Harkin donned an imported dressmaker suit of smoke blue corded silk gabardine with royal blue trim and a royal blue shortie coat. Her accessories were red and navy blue. The couple will reside here.

From 'Stalag 17'

Sig Ruman, house detective of German prison barracks in "Stalag 17," warns one of his unwilling guests, William Holden, not to fraternize with women in the adjoining compound in this highly-amusing scene from Paramount's "Stalag 17." The comedy melodrama, which was produced and directed by Billy Wilder, is now showing at the Capitol Theatre.

Russians Said Planning To Launch Man-Made Star

DENVER (AP)—One of the nation's foremost rocket engineers says the Russians plan to fire a "fantastic" man-made rocket satellite into the stratosphere which could accurately relay information back to earth.

George Sutton, 33, of Los Angeles said in an interview that Soviet scientists are "definitely" planning to shoot a man-made "dead star" to a point 200 miles above the earth "within our generation."

If launched properly, he said, the mechanism would remain at that altitude and circle the earth at a speed of 25,000 feet per second, or once every two hours.

The 500-ton satellite observation platform would hover about the earth in the same manner as does the moon, Sutton said, although the moon, much higher, circles the globe in a day-long cycle.

Vancouver Water Tower Collapses, Showering Workers

VANCOUVER (CP)—A water tower at MacMillan & Bloedel's Vancouver plywood division plant collapsed Sunday, cascading 10,000 gallons of water down onto three workmen.

Company officials estimated the damage would amount to $50,000.

The plant only had a small group of maintenance men on the job at the time. James Lucas, R. Mikitka and W. Smith were shaken up by the cascading water, but none was hurt seriously.

Cause of the tower's collapse is being investigated.

The tower was built 15 years ago and was scheduled to be replaced later this year. It is used for water pressure and in case of fire at the plywood plant.

There will be no interruption of work because of the mishap.

B.C. Salmon Pack 1,411,812 Cases

VANCOUVER (BUP)—The Fisheries Association of British Columbia reported today that a total of 1,411,812 cases of salmon were packed in B.C. so far this season.

This year's figure is topped only by the 1951 pack, which at the same time that year was 83,000 cases more. Pink salmon is leading the 1953 pack with 812,754 cases.

The association also reported that the total catch on the Fraser River up to September 4 was just short of 4,000,000. Americans caught 2,005,731 and Canadians 1,949,375.

Henry Ford's first automobile in 1892 had a two-cylinder engine producing about four horsepower.

Khrushchhev Boosted By Moscow

LONDON (AP)—Nikita S. Khrushchhev, 59, a stocky one-time boss of the Ukraine, has been elected first secretary of the central committee of the Soviet Communist Party, the Moscow radio announced Saturday night.

This gives him control over vast party machinery and makes him the second most important man in Russia. He ranks right after Premier Georgi M. Malenkov, the chief of the party's presidium.

Joseph Stalin used a similar post as secretary-general of the central committee to make himself dictator of the Soviet Union.

Without the title, Khrushchhev actually has headed a five-man secretariat of the central committee since last March. At that time Malenkov, who had taken over as successor to Stalin, resigned the central committee secretaryship to concentrate full attention on the premiership.

British Sailors Arrested

DEVONPORT, Eng. (AP)—Naval police today arrested three sailors from HMS Eagle, Britain's newest and biggest aircraft carrier, after a five-week search for "grudge" saboteurs aboard the 36,800-ton vessel.

Telephone wires were ripped out and power cables cut aboard the Eagle last month in an outbreak of what naval headquarters called "malicious mischief."

Enraged Germans Free Women

BERLIN (AP)—Several hundred enraged East Germans smashed a guardhouse window and freed three women under arrest by Communist police for getting American food parcels, a West Berlin newspaper reported today.

Mitchell Bomber Sighted in BC.

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Air force headquarters reported today that the wreckage of an RCAF Mitchell bomber, missing nearly nine months in southwestern B.C., has been spotted from the air.

The air force said the wreckage was found 25 miles northeast of here, near a small lake seven miles northeast of Coquitlam Lake. Fate of the five men aboard the plane, which was on a flight from Saskatoon to Vancouver when it disappeared Jan. 29, was not known, but they are presumed to have been killed.

Seven New Polio Cases Reported

VANCOUVER (CP)—Seven new polio cases, five of them from Vancouver, were reported today by city health officials. The report raised the year's provincial total to 135.

Those admitted included a 27-year-old man from Creston and a 27-year-old Powell River woman. Vancouver's total for the year is now 52.

Clergy Plead Guilty of Spying

WARSAW (CP)—The Roman Catholic Bishop of Kielce, Czeslaw Kaczmarek, three priests and a nun today pleaded guilty before a Polish military tribunal to spying for the United States, PAP, the official Polish news agency, reported.

The agency said they admitted organizing an espionage centre in 1945 under orders from the Vatican and the U.S. Ambassador in Warsaw.

U.K. ASKS CONSULTATION ON TRIESTE PLEBISCITE

ROME (AP)—Britain called today for consultations with the United States and France on Italy's new plea for a plebiscite on explosive Trieste which Yugoslavia's President Tito already has rejected.

A British Foreign Office spokesman in London told a press conference the three western powers will have to consider Pella's proposal for a conference on the subject.

As Pella was making his proposal for a plebiscite, Tito declared in the Adriatic port city of Split:

"We are against a plebiscite now because of the policy of denationalization by Mussolini. First the injustices should be repaired."

The Yugoslavs are well aware that Italy would have the advantage in such a vote, since about 70 per cent of the territory's 380,000 people are Italian. The Yugoslavs long have charged that Mussolini shoved out more than 100,000 Slovenes and replaced them with Italians in a program of "denationalization."

Petes Impressive In Pre-Series Tryout

By BILL WALKER, Times Sports Editor

Victoria Shamrocks and Peterborough Trailermen are in complete agreement over rules for the Mann Cup lacrosse series opening at Memorial Arena tonight.

Rules as in effect in the west this year will be used, team manager and coaches have decided. This decision was announced at a meeting of the Canadian Lacrosse Association this morning.

Main points are that the six-man game will be played; the 10-second rule behind the goal crease will be in effect; the delayed penalty rule will be enforced and the goalkeeper may at any time be replaced by an attacking player.

The 10-second rule provides that no attacking player in possession of the ball can remain behind the goal for more than 10 seconds. Penalty is a face-off.

Officials for the opening series game will be Bill Dickinson and Bill Wilkes of Vancouver.

Referees will be appointed on a game-to-game basis.

Meanwhile, the Peterborough Trailermen appear confident they can take the Shamrocks into camp.

"Our team is 25 per cent stronger than the one that beat Vancouver Combines in Vancouver two years ago," said playing coach Bobby Thorpe.

However, neither Thorpe nor Shamrocks' coach Red McMillan would go out on a limb regarding the series.

General opinion is that the Shamrocks will be cast in the role of underdogs because of the great record of the Trailermen and the fact that the eastern champs have held the Mann Cup for the last two years.

The Trailermen who arrived Sunday faced a shake-down workout at the Arena this morning and, to say the least, were impressive.

Nature of the workout can be judged by the fact that Dootch Vitarelli of the Trailermen suffered a four-stitch laceration on his head during the drill.

Trailermen appear to rely on a short-passing deliberate style of attack and seem to be at the peak of condition.

Arena officials have announced that 300 reserved seats are still available. Tickets will go on sale at the Arena box office at 7 tonight. Game time is 8.30.

WRIGHT LEAVE UNSETTLED

24th Legislature Opens Tomorrow

Percy Wright, Victoria MLA, got a seven-hour holiday leave from his job as assistant city clerk today to attend a Social Credit caucus meeting at the Legislative Buildings.

It is expected he will walk off his job Tuesday afternoon to attend the opening session of the legislature putting City Council on its hottest spot in years.

A civic employee for 22½ years, Mr. Wright applied for a 30-day leave-of-absence to attend the session and was refused by City Manager Cecil Wyatt on grounds the city has no legal authority to grant the leave.

Mr. Wright has not resigned his position and shows no inclination to do so, although he has stated definitely he will move the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne on Wednesday.

If he walks out, his absence will be reported to Mayor Claude Harrison, who could suspend him under the Municipal Act.

Asked if he would take such action the mayor replied: "It is entirely up to the manager. Council left it in his hands. I won't interfere unless asked to by the council or the manager."

Opening of the new Legislature, chosen after British Columbia's greatest political turmoil in years, is timed for 3 p.m. Tuesday, with the customary ceremonies and Lieutenant-Governor Clarence Wallace reading the Throne speech.

Party standings in the new house are:

Social Credit, 28; CCF, 14; Liberal, 4; Progressive-Conservative, 1; and Labour, 1.

The House is to deal with the business that was left unfinished when the spring session of the 23rd legislature blew up in defeat of the government, forcing an election.

Because it has been termed a regular, rather than a special, session it will cost B.C. taxpayers an extra $100,000 or more.

For regular sessions MLA's are paid their full $3,000 indemnity, but for special sessions only a daily allowance.

Other salaries include a $2,000 statutory allowance to the leader of the opposition, an $1,900 sessional allowance to the Speaker, and $500 to the deputy clerk of the House $1,700, law clerk $1,200 and sessional employees $25,000.

The remainder of the cost is taken up by office expenses, printing and publication and dining room costs.

(See Page 13 for further news on House opening.)

U.K. ASKS CONSULTATION ON TRIESTE PLEBISCITE

ROME (AP) — Britain called today for consultations with the United States and France on Italy's new plea for a plebiscite on explosive Trieste which Yugoslavia's President Tito already has rejected.

A British Foreign Office spokesman in London told a press conference the three western powers will have to consider Pella's proposal for a conference on the subject.

As Pella was making his proposal for a plebiscite, Tito declared in the Adriatic port city of Split:

"We are against a plebiscite now because of the policy of denationalization by Mussolini. First the injustices should be repaired."

The Yugoslavs are well aware that Italy would have the advantage in such a vote, since about 70 per cent of the territory's 380,000 people are Italian. The Yugoslavs long have charged that Mussolini shoved out more than 100,000 Slovenes and replaced them with Italians in a program of "denationalization."

CCF Leader Blames B.C. Government For Douk Uprising

Webster Criticizes Lack of Action on Part Of Authorities; Sons Stage Nude Parade

(From BUF and CP Dispatches)

VANCOUVER — Provincial CCF leader Arnold Webster claimed the government lacked the courage and was procrastinating today in dealing with the Doukhobor situation.

Webster told a pre-session gathering of CCF legislative members and provincial MPs that the blame for the present Sons of Freedom problem should be placed squarely on the shoulders of the government. He said the government promised to do something during the summer and "now we're well into fall and they've done nothing."

The CCF leader said his party would challenge the government when the legislature opens Tuesday to work out an immediate program for protection and prevention.

Meanwhile, a letter from the spiritual leader of the Sons of Freedom, Stefan Sorokin, was read to a gathering of some 300 Doukhobors at Krestova Sunday.

The letter promised Sorokin would put an end to the Doukhobor problems when he returned, but he did not say when. John Perepelkin, Sorokin's chief lieutenant in the Kootenay

Valley, said he did not know where Sorokin was now, and that the group does not know its way without Sorokin.

Early Sunday a home was put to the torch at nearby Glade. Saturday four were burned at this headquarters of Freedomite activity. Later Sunday some 50 men and women staged a parade in the nude, starting and ending at a crude meeting hall converted barn where they had held a meeting to consider the arrests of their companions.

There was considerable commotion during the parade. Afterwards, the Freedomites returned to their homes. They were accompanied during the demonstration by a handful of orthodox Doukhobors, who number in all about 8,000.

The orthodox groups seldom mix publicly with the radical Freedomites. Their action Sunday gave rise to speculation that the Sons have received recruits from the orthodox Doukhobors since the mass arrests.

Petes Confident Of Boxla Win

Experience Figured to Carry Trailermen To Victory Over Rocks; Referees Named

By BILL WALKER, Times Sports Editor

Victoria Shamrocks and Peterborough Trailermen are in complete agreement over rules for the Mann Cup lacrosse series opening at Memorial Arena tonight.

Rules as in effect in the west this year will be used, team manager and coaches have decided. This decision was announced at a meeting of the Canadian Lacrosse Association this morning.

Main points are that the six-man game will be played; the 10-second rule behind the goal crease will be in effect; the delayed penalty rule will be enforced and the goalkeeper may at any time be replaced by an attacking player.

The 10-second rule provides that no attacking player in possession of the ball can remain behind the goal for more than 10 seconds. Penalty is a face-off.

Officials for the opening series game will be Bill Dickinson and Bill Wilkes of Vancouver. Referees will be appointed on a game-to-game basis.

Meanwhile, the Peterborough Trailermen appear confident they can take the Shamrocks into camp.

"Our team is 25 per cent stronger than the one that beat Vancouver Combines in Vancouver two years ago," said playing coach Bobby Thorpe.

However, neither Thorpe nor Shamrocks' coach Red McMillan would go out on a limb regarding the series.

General opinion is that the Shamrocks will be cast in the role of underdogs because of the great record of the Trailermen and the fact that the eastern champs have held the Mann Cup for the last two years.

The Trailermen who arrived Sunday held a shake-down workout at the Arena this morning and, to say the least, were impressive.

Nature of the workout can be judged by the fact that Dootch Vitarelli of the Trailermen suffered a four-stitch gash on his head during the drill.

Trailermen appear to rely on a short-passing deliberate style of attack and seem to be at the peak of condition.

Arena officials have announced that 300 reserved seats are still available. Tickets will go on sale at the Arena box office at 7 tonight. Game time is 8:30. (See other stories, pictures page 8.)

CCL LEADER FORESEES UNION OF CANADIAN LABOR GROUPS

MONTREAL (CP) — A. R. Mosher, president of the Canadian Congress of Labor, said today he looks for eventual unification of the Canadian labor movement.

In his opening address to the CCL's annual convention, Mr. Mosher said the different branches of labor "are moving steadily closer to co-operation and unity."

"Economic pressure," he said "will sooner or later force the workers of Canada to seek a unified labor movement, based on sound and enduring principles of freedom and justice."

"Wasteful and inefficient methods of organization will inevitably be discarded, and the closest co-operation be established between all labor organization in Canada..."

The appeal for labor co-operation followed a move last month by the 525,000-member Trades and Labor Congress of Canada in the same direction. The TLC, biggest central labor body in Canada, voted at its convention to explore the possibilities of co-operation with rival groups with an eye to eventual unity.

Four Killed In Ladysmith Highway Crash

Two Badly Injured As Car Hits Bridge (Special to the Times)

LADYSMITH — One of the worst highway accidents in recent years claimed the lives of four people Saturday evening, and seriously injured two others, when their car struck an abutment of the Diamond Bridge two miles north of here.

Those killed were: Hugh A. Green, about 50, of Port Alberni, owner of the car and believed to have been the driver;

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rayner, both about 34, of Port Alberni; Mrs. Peggy Cappello, about 20 of Port Alberni.

Injured in the crash and taken to Ladysmith General Hospital were Louis Cappello, husband of the deceased woman, and Lyall Parke, seaman from HMCS Ontario. Parke has since been moved to HMCS Naden hospital in Victoria.

Mr. Cappello's condition was described today as "fair, and slightly improved."

According to RCMP reports the car was traveling south at the time.

As it proceeded up-grade to the bridge approach it apparently went out of control, veered into gravel on the left shoulder of the road, and crashed into the concrete abutment at the north end of the bridge.

It plunged onward down the bank past the bridge end, and came to a stop in soft soil of the fill leading to the bridge before reaching the bottom.

An inquest will be held at 8 p.m. today, but will adjourn until witnesses are able to testify.

To date the RCMP have only one witness, who saw the ill-fated car pass on its way south. There is no indication of the speed the late-model sedan was traveling when it hit the abutment, nor have police witnesses of the actual crash.

The car is a total loss.

The engine was pushed back from its mountings, and it was reported one of the persons killed was thrown through the windshield. The others were crushed in the rear of the car.

Two of the four were killed outright, and the others died minutes after arrival at hospital.

Port Alberni, home of all the deceased, was shocked today at word of the tragedy. According to reports from the west coast city, the party was on its way to auto races at Shearing Speedway, Cobble Hill.

PILL BLAMED FOR DEATH OF LADYSMITH TOT

LADYSMITH — A headache tablet that lodged in her throat is believed to blame for the death shortly after midnight on Saturday of five-year-old Sheila Hartley.

It was understood today that the child had been suffering a slight illness at the time.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hartley, she was reported to have had trouble breathing following the administering of the tablet. She died before a doctor could attend.

RCMP said today an inquiry will be held, but no date has been set.

Reds' Demands May Upset Korea Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Tension built up again in the United Nations today as explosive new debate became a certainty in the wake of Communist China's demands for a "round-table" Korean peace conference.

The United States at once emphatically rejected the Peking proposals, made in a long telegram Sunday from the Chinese premier-foreign minister, Chou Enlai, to UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld.

With the opening Tuesday, delegates prepared for another oratorical battle over Chou's demands that Russia, India, Burma, Pakistan and Indonesia be invited to the peace conference as "neutrals."

WRIGHT LEAVE STILL UNSETTLED

Opening Session of 24th Legislature Starts Tomorrow

Percy Wright, Victoria MLA, got a seven-hour holiday leave from his job as assistant city clerk today to attend a Social Credit caucus meeting at the Legislative Buildings.

It is expected he will walk off his job Tuesday afternoon to attend the opening session of the legislature putting City Council on its hottest spot in years.

A civic employee for 22½ years, Mr. Wright applied for a 30-day leave-of-absence to attend the session and was refused by City Manager Cecil Wyatt on grounds the city has no legal authority to grant the leave.

Mr. Wright has not resigned his position and shows no inclination to do so, although he has stated definitely he will move the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne on Wednesday.

If he walks out, his absence will be reported to Mayor Claude Harrison, who could suspend him under the Municipal Act.

Asked if he would take such action the mayor replied: "It is entirely up to the manager. Council left it in his hands. I won't interfere unless asked to by the council or the manager."

Opening of the new Legislature, chosen after British Columbia's greatest political turmoil in years, is timed for 3 p.m. Tuesday, with the customary ceremonies and Lieutenant-Governor Clarence Wallace reading the Throne speech.

Party standings in the new house are: Social Credit, 28; CCF, 14; Liberal, 4; Progressive-Conservative, 1, and Labor, 1.

The House is to deal with the business that was left unfinished when the spring session of the 23rd legislature blew up in defeat of the government, forcing an election.

Because it has been termed a regular, rather than a special, session it will cost B.C. taxpayers an extra $100,000 or more. For regular sessions MLAs are paid their full $3,000 indemnity, but for special sessions only a daily allowance.

Other salaries include a $2,000 statutory allowance to the leader of the opposition, an $1,800 sessional allowance to the Speaker, and $500 to the deputy clerk of the House $1,700, law

Only Producer Price To Be Fixed by Board

The provincial government today ordered decontrol of the milk industry above the producer level, effective Oct. 1.

Agriculture Minister Kenneth Kiernan made the announcement after a special cabinet meeting.

The order means milk producers (farmers) still will be paid the fixed price for their milk, but the milk distributors will be open to free competition on price, quality, and packaging.

In other words, there will be a return to a competitive market for distributors. It means stores can institute "differentials" for over-the-counter milk sales, and distributors will be permitted to offer cheaper prices to consumers who buy in quantity.

Industry Opposes Move

Previously, none of these things was allowed without permission of the B.C. Milk Board.

Cost of a quart of standard milk in Victoria now is 24 cents. Special milk is 26 cents.

The fixed price to lower Vancouver Island producers will be $5.90 per 100 pounds of 3.5 per cent butter fat content milk delivered to the distributor. In Vancouver, the price will be $3.03. These prices are the same as before.

The order is in line with the Social Credit government's promise at the spring session of the legislature.

It is made in the face of strenuous objections from the trade—producers and distributors who opposed decontrol at recent public hearings.

In explaining the order, Mr. Kiernan said:

"From the standpoint of public health and a standpoint of net returns to producer, this was definitely not a satisfactory situation. With the elimination of all controls above the producer level, it is felt that open competition will not only improve the quality of the milk offered, but will contribute to more economical distribution.

Effect of the decontrol here is not definite.

PANMUNJOM (AP) — Some of the 320 Allied prisoners who refuse to return to their homelands from Red captivity have arrived at nearby Kaesong, Communist correspondent Wilfred Burchett said today.

They are expected to be handed over to Indian custody in the Korean neutral zone Sunday.

About 20 of the 320 are non-Koreans.

Percy Made It Today

By using up seven hours of holiday time he had coming, Victoria's new MLA Percy Wright, assistant city clerk, managed to escape his City Hall duties today to attend the first Social Credit Party caucus at the Legislative Buildings. Still unsettled is whether he gets fired by the city when he attends the official opening of the Legislature Tuesday. Here he shakes hands with Attorney-General Robert Bonner and seems unworried about the storm he has caused.

$150,000 Voted To Meet Expenses Of Douk Crisis

The provincial government today authorized $150,000, by special warrant, to meet the emergency created by B.C.'s current Doukhobor troubles.

There is no special announcement as to how the money will be spent. Details are left to the discretion of Attorney-General Robert Bonner.

The Doukhobor situation is expected to result in renewed B.C. demands for financial aid from Ottawa.

Earlier in the year Mr. Bonner said Ottawa should pay at least half of costs required to deal with the troublesome sect.
